WALKER CALLED BY COMMITTEE

Will Be Asked If He Wrote Famous Letter.

Committee on Public Property of the House Decides to Employ Auditor to Go Over Accounts of Lee Barron---Barron Appears Before Committee.

A. M. Walker, Sr., of 207 Pulliam street, will be summoned before the committee on public property of the house of representatives, to tell what he knows, if anything, of the charges of graft against Lee Barron, keeper of public buildings and grounds.

Mr. Welker will also be asked if he is the author of the letter which was written to Thomas E. Watson, containing the charges that Mr. Barron was misusing the funds appropriated for his office, and which Mr. Watson later sublitted to the house.

At a meeting held Thursday afternoon the committee decided to subpoena Mr. Walker, the motion to that effect being made by Mr. Hall, of Bibb.

Auditor for Accounts.

"I do not know whether Mr. Walker knows anything at all about this letter or these charges," said Mr. Hall, "but his name has been mentioned in connection with the authorship, and I think we should have him before us."

The committee also decided to employ an auditor to go over Mr. Barron's accounts. The auditor will be employed and put to work at once. It is probable the committee will take no further action in the matter until the auditor's report is ready. It was not decided on what day Mr. Walker should be summoned to appear.

Mr. Barron was present Thursday afternoon and was sworn as a witness.

Replying to questions from Mr. Hall, he declared that he had nothing whatever to do with letting the contracts for the work of decorating and recarpeting the hall of the house of representatives and the senate chamber, aside from advertising for bids at the direction of the governor.

"Governor Brown had charge of all that," said he.

Mr. Davis, of Dougherty, wanted to go into an investigation of those contracts and the bids, but Mr. Hall, of Bibb, objected.

"We have no authority to investigate the official acts of the governor of Georgia," said Mr. Hall. "This committee could only do that by direction of the legislature, and you'll never get me to investigate any act of the governor without that authority."

Mr. Pierce, of Richmond, asked Mr. Barron what relations he had had, if any, with John Lee and R. F. Duckworth, of the Farmers' Union.

Barron Answers Questions.

Mr. Hall wanted to know what that had to do with the investigation of charges against Mr. Barron.

"I ask that question by request," replied Mr. Pierce. "I have been informed that the charge has been made that those gentlemen might be able to throw some light on these charges."

Chairman Keith ruled that the question was not pertinent to the issue, but Mr. Barron voluntarily answered it by saying that he had had no business relations with either of them, and that he had never made any contract or accepted any bids for work at their suggestion or request.

"I have just considered both of them my friends," he said.

Mr. Hall asked Mr. Barron several questions regarding the employ and payment of guards and porters at the capitol, and servants at the governor's mansion. The only matter of interest developed by the questions was the fact that the method of keeping records and accounts in the office is not as systematic and clear as it should be.

"That's not characteristic of Mr. Barron's office alone," said Mr. Hall. "It is true of every other office in the capitol. You can't tell anything about them. It appears that the present keeper of buildings and grounds has only followed the system which has been in force all the time."

The committee adjourned, subject to the call of the chairman.

HIGH TARIFF PAYNE SEEKING REELECTION

He Admits the Tariff Will Be the Issue Everywhere.

Auburn, N. Y., July 7.—Representative Sereno E. Payne, chairman of the house ways and means committee, is a candidate for reelection to congress. In an interview announcing his candidacy, Mr. Payne said:

"I expect to be a candidate for reelection and I shall take active part in the campaign, both in New York and elsewhere. I have been invited by the congressional committee and by the state committee and will give them all the time that I can."

He declined to say what congressmen he was going to aid, and in reply to the specific question whether he was going to help Mr. Lodge, he merely smiled and admitted that he had spoken in Massachusetts on other occasions.

"I expect to go wherever they send me," he added.

To the question whether the tariff would be the issue he answered:

"Yes, the tariff and the good work done in congress will undoubtedly be the issues everywhere and in this state will never shadow state issues is my judgment."

NEW FREIGHT CARS TO HANDLE CROPS

New Orleans, Mobile and Chicago Road Places Big Order.

Mobile, Ala., July 7.—In order to meet increased business enjoyed at this time, and that anticipated as a result of a bumper cotton crop along its line, the New Orleans, Mobile and Chicago railroad has placed an order with the American Car and Foundry Company for at least 200 cars. It was stated that the order is divided into fifty gondolas and 150 box cars.

The added equipment is to be delivered about September 1.

ROOSEVELT TO TAKE STUMP FOR FOE OF ALDRICH TARIFF

Ex-President Announces He Will Spellbind in Indiana for Senator Beveridge.

BEVERIDGE "INSURGED" AGAINST THE TARIFF LAW

And Kept Indiana Republican Convention From Indorsing the Aldrich Measure--It Looks Like Roosevelt Is Going Over, Bag and Baggage, to the G. O. P. Insurgents.

JOHN KERN MAY ANSWER ROOSEVELT ON STUMP

Indianapolis, July 7.—John W. Kern, democratic candidate for Albert J. Beveridge's seat in the United States senate, and the democratic candidate for vice president at the last national election, said tonight that he had received a private communication from New York that Colonel Roosevelt would speak in Indiana on Mr. Beveridge's behalf. He declined to state whether he would answer Colonel Roosevelt on the stump.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 7.—Albert J. Beveridge, United States senator from Indiana, and one of the most prominent and consistent of the "progressive" republicans, came down from Sagamore Hill this afternoon with a promise from Theodore Roosevelt to deliver a campaign speech in his fight for reelection to the senate. Mr. Beveridge departed content and smiling, but he left it for the colonel to make announcement of the proposed campaign speech in the senator's behalf. And this is what Mr. Roosevelt said:

"Mr. Foulke and Mr. Swift came to Sagamore Hill last night and spent the night here. They came to request me to go to Indiana and speak in behalf of Senator Beveridge. I promised them that I would."

He added that he had agreed today to make only one speech for the senator, and as far as is now known he will make only one. The time and place for this speech has not been fixed.

Roosevelt Aids Tariff Knocker.

Those who have followed the political conferences at Oyster Bay since Theodore Roosevelt's return share the belief that he has been feeling his way cautiously in his attitude toward the administration and the insurgents, but today's incidents are considered the most important yet developed. Senator Beveridge is making his fight for reelection as an insurgent. He is opposed by John W. Kern, who ran with Bryan in the last campaign.

In his fight the senator is placing himself squarely against President Taft, insofar as the tariff law figures. The law which the president has defended as the "best tariff measure ever" is denounced without equivocation by the senator and the same republican state convention which indorses Beveridge for another term virtually repudiated the law. In the senate Beveridge fought the bill to the last, and then voted against it.

Taft and Beveridge.

It is pointed out, however, that with this exception President Taft and the senator from Indiana have been puling together as far as administration policies are concerned. There has been no break between them. The president entrusted to the senator the conduct of two administration measures at the last session of congress—the statehood bill and the Alaska government bill. And, although the senator worked faithfully with the insurgent band in the senate and had a hand in the alteration of President Taft's railroad bill, he supported the administration in the last session when the votes were taken.

Sagamore Hill was fairly swarming all day with men of various political persuasion. They came by train and by automobile. They talked politics all day long, but as they left town they were unanimously reticent when asked to tell what they knew. Consequently, Oyster Bay is enveloped in an atmosphere of deep mystery.

Some of the Visitors.

There were three Indianians among the visitors. Besides Senator Beveridge they were William Dudley Foulke and Lucian Swift, of Indianapolis.

Three came from New Hampshire—Winston Churchill, the novelist; John Bass, war correspondent, and his brother, Robert R. Bass, who is a progressive candidate for the republican nomination for governor.

New York state was represented by Representative Hamilton Fish and James R. Sheffield. From Montana there was United States Senator Thos. H. Carter.

ATLANTA AD MEN WANT CONVENTION

Make Plans to Secure Next Annual Gathering.

Resolutions Are Passed Asking City Council and Chamber of Commerce to Join Ad Men in Sending Big Delegation to Omaha Meeting.

The most enthusiastic meeting yet held by the Atlanta Ad Men's Club was that of last night when 50 of the members came together in their rooms at the Transportation Club upon call of President George M. Chapin, for an informal dinner and discussion of several important matters pertaining to advertising.

The question of the Atlanta advertising men's representation at the national convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America, to be held in Omaha, Neb., July 18, 19 and 20, was brought up, and it was then that the enthusiasm of the members and their belief in the upbuilding work of advertising was shown. Samuel C. Dobbs, general advertising and sales manager of the Coca-Cola Company, and a native Atlantan, was elected, at the national meeting held last year at Louisville, as national president, and the members of the Atlanta Ad Men's Club have determined to have a large and enthusiastic delegation to carry everything before them at the Omaha convention.

Several strong speeches commending Mr. Dobbs' work were made, resolutions were passed calling on the Atlanta city council and the Chamber of Commerce to join with the Ad Men's Club in making a strong representation to Omaha, and it was the unanimous opinion that the next annual convention should be invited to Atlanta.

Over a Thousand Delegates Attend.

At the convention last year at Louisville over 1,000 keen, aggressive business men engaged in advertising lines attended the meeting. It is estimated that some 1,500 delegates will be present at Omaha this year, and with the growth of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America, it is felt that should Atlanta secure the next convention it would mean the bringing to this city of nearly 2,000 representative advertising agents, solicitors, writers, magazine owners, advertising managers and buyers of advertising space from all over the United States.

Council will be waited upon by a committee from the Atlanta Ad Men's Club, who will ask that a fund be ordered set aside with which to send delegates to the Omaha convention and make a strong fight to bring the next meeting to Atlanta. The cities of Richmond, Va., and Boston, Mass., as well as Chicago, are known to be after this convention, but it is thought that Atlanta will have a splendid chance to secure it, provided a strong and enthusiastic delegation is sent.

The advertising men showed their strong interest by subscribing over $200 towards defraying the expenses of a delegation, and this amount will be largely increased when letters concerning the movement are sent out to the 150 members of the Atlanta organization. By the election last year of S. C. Dobbs as national president, Atlanta and the south have been signally honored, and as the members of the Omaha Advertising Club were among the most enthusiastic supporters of Mr. Dobbs when he was elected, Atlanta wants to return the courtesy by having a full ear of delegates attend the convention at Omaha. Those who subscribed towards the fund were: Overland-Southern Motor Car Company, by Lindsay Hopkins, president, $45; St. Elmo Massengale, $25; Joseph W. Hill, $15; L. E. Rogers, $15; Cliff D. Wayne, $15; H. G. Hastings & Co., $15; American Multi-

ORPHEUM LEASED BY "SYNDICATE"

K. & E. Shows to Play There Temporarily.

Arrangements Made So That "Syndicate" Shows Can Open Season in September, Playing at Orpheum Until Hurt's New Theater Is Completed.

Klaw & Erlanger made announcement yesterday that they had leased the Orpheum theater from Jake Wells, and will open the season in that house, playing the attractions of the "syndicate" there until the new house which Joel Hurt, prominent Atlanta capitalist, is building, is completed.

The announcement also gave the interesting information that Jake Wells and Klaw & Erlanger had reached an agreement by which the "syndicate" shows will be booked in all the southern theaters controlled by Mr. Wells, thus insuring the "open door" for which the president of the Southern Theater Managers has always worked so faithfully.

When Mr. Hurt's theater is ready Klaw & Erlanger will book their attractions into the new play house, the lease on the Orpheum will end and Jake Wells will find some other use for the former home of high-class vaudeville.

It is uncertain as to just how many months the Orpheum will be used by Klaw & Erlanger. Mr. Hurt is used to handling large contracts and handling them in record time. He has never set any special date for the finish of work on the new theater further than to say that the house will certainly be ready for attractions by the first of January, and that he hoped to have it ready even sooner.

Mr. Hurt has been connected with many public enterprises that meant much to the people of Atlanta, and by indomitable will and determination has achieved remarkable success in business lines.

He has long desired to own a theater in Atlanta, and is very much pleased with the theatrical situation, as he found it on his recent visit to New York. He has promised Atlanta one of the handsomest, most artistic and comfortable theaters in the south on one of the most conveniently located sites in the city.

In a telegram from Klaw & Erlanger to The Constitution an interesting bit of information is given in the announcement that arrangements have been completed with Jake Wells for the direct booking of all Klaw & Erlanger attractions on the Wells circuit, comprising Richmond, Norfolk, Lynchburg, Roanoke, Augusta, Montgomery, Chattanooga, Evansville and other points.

The telegram from Klaw & Erlanger's office is as follows:

"Editor Constitution: Klaw & Erlanger have taken a temporary lease of the Orpheum theater in Atlanta, Ga., and will play all attractions represented by them in that house the coming season until the new theater which Mr. Joel Hurt is erecting for them in that city is completed, this following closely the arrangements made with Jake Wells for the direct booking of all the attractions they represent on his circuits, comprising Richmond, Norfolk, Lynchburg, Roanoke, Augusta, Montgomery, Chattanooga, Evansville and other points, giving all attractions going south the same advantages that they have had during the past twenty years.

"MURRAY."

Mr. Murray is the head of the Klaw & Erlanger press department.

Hugh Cardoza Talks.

"This simply means that Jake Wells is living squarely up to his platform," said Hugh Cardoza last night. "Mr. Wells has never been for the destruction of any booking agency or any producer, but for three years has not been idle a minute in his determined effort to open the doors of all theaters to all producers alike for the benefit of the theater-goers and for the profit of the managers, or the operating owner.

"Jake Wells won his points right along and despite the declaration from the opposition to the 'open door,' that that movement would never be successful, the firm of Klaw & Erlanger recently sent out a message to all theater managers that they would agree to the open door policy, but requested that they be permitted to book for themselves and those still allied with them, including Savage, Frohman, Wagenhals & Kemper, Henry B. Harris, George M. Cohan and Cohan & Harris.

"It was determined that Klaw & Erlanger could not represent anyone, but would have to come alone and that all producers loyal to that firm would have to do its own booking. This was not in accordance with the policy of the open door. It was not intended to drive anyone out of the business, but to strengthen the situation insofar as booking was concerned.

"I am not sufficiently familiar with the latest developments to talk authoritatively as to the routing of Klaw & Erlanger in the Wells theaters in Richmond, Norfolk, Lynchburg, Roanoke, Newport News, Petersburg, Augusta, Evansville, Chattanooga, Knoxville, Montgomery and other places, and if it is, as announced, it is simply another win for Mr. Wells, who started out three years ago to put before his patrons the best attractions possible to secure from any producer.

"It will be recalled," continued Mr. Cardoza, "that Mr. Wells offered the Orpheum to Klaw & Erlanger, as soon as that firm declared they must have a theater in Atlanta. This was long before arrangements were completed for the construction of the proposed Hurt house. It was an evidence of his good faith with the people to give to them the best attractions. He offered the house for a term of years, or for a few months, anything to get the shows to Atlanta, and now it is announced that Klaw & Erlanger have accepted the offer and have taken the house until such time as the Hurt theater is completed.

"All of this undoubtedly developed late on Thursday evening," continued the Atlanta representative of the Wells interests, "and I have not been acquainted with details, but depend upon it, that Mr. Wells is positively living squarely up to what he started out for—the open door, playing first-class attractions of first-class producers, irrespective of any clique or any combination. He is simply doing what he promised to do, and it does seem that he is the one manager of a chain of theaters in the entire country to absolutely stand for what he declared for, and as he was right in the beginning, he is simply bound to win.

"Just how long it will take to complete the theater I do not know. I do know that the best part of the season will be played in the Orpheum, and of course the Grand will play other attractions that will be good and clever and new and original, and it has all been brought about by this man Wells, who came to Atlanta in 1902 and has given the public the Bijou, the Casino, the Lyric, Ponce de Leon Park, the best class of attractions and vaudeville at popular prices, and who knows but that he will still do something else as enterprising and as progressive? He is in the theater business for profit and he intends getting every dollar that work and brain can bring to him."

She filed a formal application with the secretary of state, accompanied by a check for $100, which is necessary to enter her name as a candidate under the new state primary law, to be tried for the first time this fall. The check was forwarded through Mrs. Ricker's local attorney, and is to be followed at once by a declaration of platform. Mrs. Ricker has just returned from San Jose, Cal., where she spent the winter and spring. She was the first woman to seek a diplomatic post. She sent her application with strong indorsements to President McKinley for the post of minister to Colombia. She was the first woman lawyer to be admitted to the bars of the District of Columbia and of New Hampshire, and was associate counsel with the late Colonel Ingersoll in the star route trials.

TO TALL TIMBERS WITH BANK ROLL

Virginia Cashier Steals $22,000 and Flees.

Cashier Sutherland Left Note in the Bank Vault Saying "Gone to the Tall Timbers." Reward of $1,000 Offered for Arrest of the Cashier.

Clintwood, Va., July 7.—Cash to the amount of $15,000 and $7,000 worth of unsigned treasury certificates have disappeared from the vaults of the Citizens' National bank of this place, and a reward of $1,000 has been offered by the officers of the institution for the arrest of Walter C. D. Sutherland, cashier of the bank, who has not been seen here since Saturday night.

Sutherland hired a horse Saturday night and told his friends, it is alleged, that he was going to ride to Stration to spend the Fourth with relatives. When he did not appear at the bank Tuesday morning inquiry by the officials developed the fact, it is said, that the young man had not visited Stratton. No trace has yet been found of Sutherland or of the horse he rode.

It was not until late yesterday that the bank vault, whose time lock had been set for ninety-six hours, could be opened. Then the officials discovered the loss. In the vault they found a note saying, "Gone to the tall timbers." The name of the missing cashier, it is said, was signed to it.

Sutherland, who is 34 years old, was at one time connected with the army engineer corps in the Philippine islands.

DEAF BOY IS RUN OVER BY A HEAVY WORK CAR

Motorman Started Ringing His Gong Half a Block Away.

Johnnie Barker, 12 years old and deaf, was run down by a heavy work car of the Georgia Railway & Electric Co., at the corner of English and Bellwood avenues yesterday afternoon; and is now in the Atlanta hospital with a broken right leg as a result of the accident. Motorman M. P. Lehman, not knowing of the lad's affliction, began ringing the gong half a block away when he saw him walking in the middle of the track. He waited too late in applying the brakes and Johnnie not hearing the warning was knocked flat. He lives on Tyler street and is the son of a street car employee.

ENDS HIS LIFE IN GRANT PARK

J. F. Hughes Leaves Note to Undertaker.

Gives Direction to Harry Poole About His Burial---Declaring Himself Bankrupt, He Asks That Funeral Cost Not More Than $100.

Broken in fortune, and tired of the struggle for success, J. F. Hughes took his life by drinking carbolic acid at Grant Park last night. At 12:15 o'clock his body was found. The spark of life was gone.

In explanation of his deed he left the following note to Harry G. Poole, undertaker:

Harry G. Poole, City.

Dear Harry: Will you take charge of my remains, and bury at Oakland in the Odd Fellows' lot. I have written J. J. Hobby, noble Grand, Barnes Lodge, to ask permission of the lodge. I don't want you to spend over $75 or $100 on funeral as I am bankrupt.

J. F. HUGHES.

The body was found by A. J. Atkinson, nightkeeper of the park. The dead man was seated on a bench in the pavilion on Park avenue. His head was leaning backward. By his side was found a bottle of carbolic acid, half drained. Also there was found in his pocket the note to Harry Poole.

The undertaking establishment was at once notified and an ambulance was hurried to the park. The police department was also phoned and officers were sent for, but there was nothing for them to do when they arrived.

Hughes was a man apparently 50 years old, tall, gray hair, gray eyes.

When the man was described, over the phone, to Harry G. Poole, Mr. Poole stated that he was connected with the money-lending business, leaves a wife and several children, and was supposed to live on West Peachtree place.

WESTERN UNION BARS BROKERS IN 10 CITIES

Service Cut Off Without Explanation and Without Warning.

New York, July 7.—Without explanation and wtihout warnng, the Western Union Telegraph Company discontinued its service today to brokers in ten cities of this state and Pennsylvania. The cities affected are Pittsburg, Pa., and Syracuse, Ithaca, Rome, Utica, Gloversville Auburn, Watertown and Courtland, of this state.

Executive officers of the company took the stand today that under advice of counsel they could not discuss the company's policies. There were many rumors that the company was acting on the advice of some one in Washington, supposed to be very close to the policy of the attorney general's office, but this could not be confirmed.

Hitherto the Western Union has always taken the stand that as a common carrier it had no right to refuse any business offered it, provided such business was couched in decent language.

Gaynor and Governorship.

Utica, N. Y., July 7.—Oliver Brower, of New York, in Utica, declared tonight that the talk of Mayor Gaynor not accepting the nomination for governor should not be credited. "Certainly he will accept," he said. "If we did not have such assurance we would not now be preparing to organize the state for him."

TAFT WITHDRAWS 35,073,164 ACRES

President Is Pushing the Conservation Policy.

Lands Withdrawn From the Public Domain Contain Coal. The Withdrawals Are Made Under the Law Recently Passed by Congress.

Beverly, Mass., July 7.—Continuing his policy of practical conservation, President Taft late tonight signed orders withdrawing 35,073,164 acres of coal lands from the public domain in the states of North and South Dakota, Washington, Utah, Colorado and the territory of Arizona.

Of the total withdrawals 20,698,469 acres are new, while 14,374,695 acres are covered in confirmations and ratifications under the new law, approved June 25, of withdrawals made during the past four years by both Rresident Roosevelt and President Taft.

North and South Dakota Affected.

North and South Dakota are the two states affected by the new withdrawals. From the public domain in North Dakota, the president has withdrawn from settlement 17,828,182 acres of land believed to contain workable coal. In South Dakota the amount withdrawn is 2,770,287 acres.

Previous withdrawals confirmed by the president tnnight are divided among the several states as follows:

Washington, 2,207,967 acres; Arizona, 161,280 acres; Utah, $5,814,287 acres, and Colorado, 6,191,161 acres.

The withdrawal orders, prepared by the geological survey and approved by the secretary of the interior, reached Beverly from Washington late tonight. They were sent tonight to the Taft cottage on Burgess Point, where they were signed by the president.

All Under New Law.

All of the withdrawals and confirmations were made under the new law passed at the last session of congress which definitely authorized the president to withdraw various lands from entry pending their classification and special disposition by congress. The president urged this law as the first step in his plan for practical conservation. He hopes to secure additional legislation at the coming session of congress dealing with the terms under which water power sites, coal, petroleum and phosphate lands may be disposed of.

Director George Otis Smith, of the geological survey, in his recommendation for withdrawals in North and South Dakota says:

"A consideration of the information available here as well of the report of Mr. Jaffa, leads us to the conclusion that there are large areas in those states which are underlaid by ignite considered workable under the present regulations and which should be withdrawn from entry."

FROM A BLAZING CASKET BABY'S BODY WAS RESCUED

Pittsburg, July 7.—Startled by crackling flames from the slumber which had overcome them while keeping a death watch beside the body of a baby brother, the two children of John Kronosky, of Sharpsburg, found the baby's casket afire early today. Flames from the candles about the bier had set fire to palms amid which the coffin rested, and the blaze was fast consuming it when the children fled to give the alarm. Firemen took the corpse from the burning casket which was destroyed with much of the furniture in the room. The parents say the fire was started by one of the children trying to rearrange some paper flowers and that a candle was upset.

Where'ere You May Wander There's No Place Like Home

How many vacationists returning from mountain and seashore, feel the heart beat higher as old familiar land marks looms up as the train speeds by, bringing them closer home.

The transitory pleasures the vacation supplied, charmed for a while, minds are brighter, health is better for the going; and return home, new resolves are nurtured, new ambitions awakened, and all influenced by the restful, refreshing sense of getting home.

The endearments of home are influenced by the inanimate as well as the animate; the daily association with home surroundings, environment, furnishings, stamps an indelible picture on the memory that absence from the scene but serves to intensify. Sentiment, the substile force that finds a haven in almost every heart, weaves its own mesh around place and object. A certain chair, this desk, that table, a book case, may be association has endeared or circumstances of purchase venerated.

The type of Furniture that "grows mellow in the memory" of home surroundings is fashioned and built on firm and substantial lines; like the "Furniture of our forefathers" that have become the heir-loom of today.

Intrinsic value in Furniture is the feature that will make your purchase today the heir-loom of the future.

BOTH HER LEGS CUT OFF, LITTLE GIRL CAN WALK

Picture Showing How Miss Eleanor Berger is Able to Walk.

This little 5-year-old girl had both legs cut off three years ago in a street car accident and today she can walk almost as spryly as any other little girl, thanks to modern surgery.

She is Miss Eleanor Berger, of Charleston, S. C., and her case presents one of the most remarkable in the history of surgical triumphs.

When two years old she was run down on the streets of Charleston by a trolley car and for a ling time it was thought she would not survive. She underwent treatment at Johns Hopkins, where her sister gave generous portions of her flesh for the skin-grafting process.

She is now completely recovered and walks on artificial limbs made especially for her by Dr. J. E. Hanger, of this city.

Miss Eleanor demonstrated to the members of the Fulton County Medical Association at their meeting in Carnegie library Thursday night how well man-made limbs fill the place of those separated from her by cruel trolley wheels.

DEFECTIVE ARMOR ON BATTLESHIPS

Fifty Tons of Faulty Plates on North Dakota and Utah.

Washington, July 7.—Defects discovered in armor plate in the battleships North Dakota and Utah, two of the most powerful craft in the navy, led to a protracted conference at the navy department over the legal phases involved. There were present representatives of the New York Ship Building Company, the Midvale Steel Company and government experts.

Spalls, a flaking condition that impaired the armament resistance efficiency, were found on the plates, and new plates were substituted. tI was said that possibly the annealing work in affixing the plate may have caused some of the defects.

The question involved the cost of the removal of the North Dakota's armor, the responsibility for the replacements and the cost to the Utah's plate. About fifty tons of armor, valued at aproximately $20,000, was affected. The North Dakota is in New England waters, and in commission, the new plates are being already placed by the navy yard there, while the Utah is in course of construction at Camden, N. J.

The Duke and Miss Elkins.

Rome, July 7.—The Tribuna publishes a report that the Duke of Abruzzi, who is now director general of the arsenal at Venice, recently motored from Venice to Toblach, Austria, where he met many Americans, including, it is believed, Miss Katherin Elkins. This has revived gossip concerning the engagement of the duke and Miss Elkins.

HOW TO CURE A TERRIFIC HEADACHE.

Many people suffer with an aching head week after week, occasionally getting relief from so-called headache powders and nerve stupefying drugs. They never get cured because they start wrong. Such people should do a little commonsense thinking. Headache is simply the result, a warning signal, of a far more serious trouble. Usually it means bad blood poisoned by an inactive or sluggish liver. Headache sufferers are often nervous, cross and irritable. Their sleep is disturbed and digestion impaired. The liver doesn't do its work right, and the bile elements poison both nerve and brain.

Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills remove the cause of headache. They are Nature's true laxative, and give tone to liver activity, are a positive specific for biliousness and a torpid liver. Get your liver right by using Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills and your head won't ache, your herves won't weaken, nor your food distress you. Physicians use and recommend. They form no habit. You should always keep them on hand. These little Vegetable Pills will ward off many ills.

50,000 PERSONS GO OUT ON STRIKS

Garment and Cloak Makers of N. Y. Quit. 8,000 Women.

New York, July 7.—Fifty thousand garment and cloak-makers, of whom 8,000 are women, walked out this afternoon at the call of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, which demands an eight-hour day, an increase in wages and a guarantee that contractors stand behind subcontractors for wage payments.

The fight thus far is purely local, but officers of the union said tonight that if the employers attempted to sublet their work in other cities, notably Chicago, or Philadelphia and Cleveland, the union would call a strike there also.

The 1,100 factories here employ 100,900 hands, of which half are organized. The strikers hope to draw many of the non-union workers out by a sympathetic strike.

$1,000,000 SOUGHT BY ILLINOIS CENTRAL

Road Alleges It Was Robbed of That Sum in Repairing of Cars.

Chicago, July 7.—The Illinois Central Railroad Company today began taking depositions in aid of its suits brought to recover $1,000,000, of which it claims to have been defrauded in connection with the repairing of freight cars.

Ira G. Rawn, president of the Monon road, and former vice president of the Illinois Central in charge of operation, was examined before Master in Chancery Thomas Taylor. Subpoenaes were issued for Henry C. Ostermann, former president of the Ostermann Manufacturing Company, now the West Pullman Car Company; F. H. Niles, president of the Blue Island Rolling Mills and Car Company, and the Central Trust Company, which has moneys and notes belonging to Ostermann on deposit and in its vaults.

Despite the settlement which the Blue Island Rolling Mills and Car Company made with the Illinois Central, and negotiations for settlements with other companies involved, State's Attorney Wayman is preparing to take the alleged conspiracy before the grand jury.

SIR SAYAJI RAO III BUYS SCORE OF AUTOS

Maharajah Gaekwar Sir Sayaji Rao III. is due to spend a busy two weeks in New York city. The gaekwar of Baroda is anxious to take back to India a number of American-built automobiles and harvesting machinery, to say nothing of a van load of toys. Rao III. is one of the richest of India's rulers and one of the most progressive. He has been making a tour of portions of the United States and will wind up his visit by July 20 with a flourish of royal splendor. He has engaged the most expensive suite of rooms in one of New York's most exclusive hotels, where he will house his escort. Rao III. wants good automobiles and after inspecting a score of more has decided to purchase one of each made. He is quoted by a Yankee automobile salesman as saying he could not make up his wind "which was the best," and as all salesmen insisted their repective cars "are the best" he will buy one of each, test them out in India and do the future ordering after he has tried to climb a hill on the high gear.

DAVID ROBINSON HONORED BY GAYNOR

Former Georgian Made Damage Grade Commissioner in New York.

New York, July 7.—(Special.)—Mayor Gaynor today appointed David Robinson, formerly of Georgia but now of New York, as damage grade commissioner, a city position which will pay him well and at the same time which will require the exercise of considerable ability in dealing with matters incident to the position.

Mr. Robinson is a nephew of the late Judge Newman, for more than thirty years ordinary of Washington county, Georgia, and a gallant Confederate veteran in the civil war.

Mr. Robinson, after leaving Sandersville, Ga., was engaged in Albany and Savannah, becoming a citizen of New York more than a decade ago. He has been prominently identified with the Georgia Society of New York and also the Southern Society and is well known to many Georgians. For the past several years he has been engaged in the brokerage business, and has recently been at the head of the New York News Service bureau.

THREE LIVES SAVED BY 11-YEAR-OLD BOY

Piqua, Ohio, July 7.—Mrs. Cora Cox and three children, of Springfield, were thrown into the Swift Run lake here from a bridge by a fractious horse and barely escaped drowning.

Daniel Dawson, a little 11-year-old boy, proved a hero and rescued three children out of twenty feet of water and a colored woman rescued the woman after beating her into insensibility to keep her from drowning her.

The Idea.

Apropos of the unexampled extravagance and luxury of New York's multi-millionaires, Mrs. August Belmont said at a dinner at Tuxedo:

"Then, there's young Knickerbocker. Look at young Knickerbocker now! He has nineteen regular servants at his town-house, and yet since King Edward's death he had hired four extra ones—colored ones, you know—just to bring up black-edged letters and to look after visitors dressed in mourning."

REDUCED TO LAST NICKEL HE PUT AN END TO HIS LIFE

Washington, July 7.—Reduced to his last nickel by illness, J. C. Dean, aged 47, of Hattiesburg, Miss., ended his life here today by drinking carbolic acid. His body was found by a park policeman in a clump of bushes on the Mall.

A small empty bottle was found near the body. Written on the fly leaf of a notebook in the dead man's pocket wa sthe following:

"My brother's name is E. W. Dean. Q. & C. freight offices, Meridian, Miss."

The only articles of value found in the pockets were a dollar watch and a 5-cent piece.

Dean had been stopping at a local hotel for the past three weeks and appeared ill and despondent.

well pleased with the result of the day's work of talking politics, which began almost as soon as he was up, and lasted well through the afternoon. To interviewers, however, he would say little concerning the conferences, except that he had promised to make one speech for Mr. Beveridge.

Thus, those who sought to interpret the day as a general insurgent rally looking toward the shaping of Colonel Roosevelt's future attitude were left in the dark. And, as an indication that this was not the case, there was the presence of Senator Carter, a man who in the past steadily has opposed insurgency.

Beveridge Well Pleased.

Senator Beveridge spent only a few hours at Sagamore Hill, and it was evident that the press of other visitors and a dinner engagement in New York that necessitated an early return gave him less time than he wished to discuss the political situation in Indiana with his host.

"I have no doubt that Mr. Roosevelt will give out anything that he wishes to become public about our interview," said Mr. Beveridge. "I gave my views on the Indiana situation fully in a formal statement several days ago."

"Did you come away pleased with your talks?"

The senator's smile broadened until he laughed aloud. "Well," he said, "I have had many talks with Mr. Roosevelt in the last few years, but never in my experience have I had one more satisfactory than today's talk."

Further than this, Senator Beveridge would not go. "I start on my vacation tomorrow," he added, "and it is needless to say that I go in a very happy frame of mind."

Senator Beveridge said he came to Oyster Bay by appointment, and that his visit had nothing to do with that of the other visitors here today.

"I found Colonel Roosevelt," he declared, "more alive, and more interested in things than ever."

Winston Churchill Talks.

Winston Churchill was as careful as Senator Beveridge to keep back any specific information as to the conversation between Colonel Roosevelt, the Bass brothers and himself.

"Colonel Roosevelt has been interested in the fight in New Hampshire since it began in 1906, when I ran for governor," said he. "This year, Robert R. Bass, of Peterboro, is a candidate for governor. He may be classed with the insurgents, but the New Hampshire republican organization has not opposed his nomination. Mr. Roosevelt wanted to know about the situation in New Hampshire, and as I am an old friend of his, I came down to tell him."

'Did Mr. Roosevelt indicate what his attitude was in regard to the fight in New Hampshire?"

"Only by his friendly attitude. He said nothing to show his views."

Then Mr. Churchill produced a paper on which he had written a statement. Here it is:

"Our whole purpose in New Hampshire this summer is to make Mr. Bass governor and to elect a legislature to support him. We have done nothing else; we have meddled with nothing else. We know that Bass is uncompromising. He has been with the progressive movement since its start. He is incapable of making political deals. The people of the state trust him and his nomination and election will be a clear-cut victory, a signal stage in the fight we began four years ago."

Senator Carter Seemed Grave.

Senator Carter looked gravely at the interviewers and informed them that the people in his part of the country were not hearing much about the insurgency movement just now. The senator came alone, and returned alone to New York.

"I assured Colonel Roosevelt," cried Senator Carter, "that the alleged divisions in the west were greatly exaggerated, that many of us were trying to attain the same ends through different methods."

Senator Carter said that he had assured Colonel Roosevelt that the strength of the insurgent movement in the northwest had been overestimated.

The senator was asked if there was any possibility of a breach between President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt, and he replied:

"I can see no danger of it. Mr. Roosevelt will probably have more of a soothing influence than any other.

In addition to the political talks Colonel Roosevelt also found time to talk about hunting in Africa. John Burroughs, the naturalist, who spent the night at Sagamore Hill, and T. J. Ader, who dropped in for luncheon, swapped stories of the jungle with him. No politicians are expected at Sagamore Hill tomorrow.

Newell Confers With Roosevelt.

Washington, July 7.—Director Frederick H. Newell, of the reclamation service, whose differences with Secretary of the Interior Ballinger have created general comment, returned to Washington today from New York, where it was understood he had talked yesterday with Former President Roosevelt.

The unusual reticence of the director concerning his New York visit lends color to the report that one of the objects of his trip was to consult with Colonel Roosevelt concerning the friction with the secretary of the interior over the administration of the reclamation service. He refused to say whether he had a conference with the former president.

A Large Volume.

The biggest book in Washington is not in the congressional library. It is in the reference room of the geological survey on F street, where its huge bulk reposes on a stand made especially for it. It is a dictionary, and consists of half a dozen volumes bound under one generous cover that must have taken several calfskins to provide the leather binding. It contains 7,085 pages, and weighs as much as a high school girl. By contrast, the fat Webster's Unabridged that lies alongside this great Jumbo of a book looks like a pocket edition of the Rubaiyat.

A Weak Appeal.

An editor was talking in San Francisco about Jim Jeffries.

"Jim was a little crusty when he started training,' said the editor. 'He hated the idea, you know, of removing all that fat. He hated the idea of the weeks of self-denial and abstinence that lay before him.

"Jim was grumbling to me about this one day at the Seal Rock house.'

"'I hate the prospect of training,' he said. 'Training appeals to me just about as strongly as the charity soup appealed to the old appie woman.

"'Charity soup!' said she. 'Bosh! I'll tell you how they concoct that. They just take a quart of water and boil it down to a pint to make it strong.'"

BLOOD TAINT

The man whose system is polluted with blood poison was for a long time considered to have a dark future, for among those physicians who had not given the subject constant study and research, this disease was considered incurable.

We had an abiding belief that science was able to provide a cure, however, and after years of experience with the disease, devoted to its close study, our efforts were rewarded with success, and some of the worst cases on record have yielded to our original method of treatment. If you have been dosed on drastic drugs, you will immediately see the superiority of our treatment, for we do not saturate the system with potash and mercury, the effects of which are as damaging to the system as the disease itself.

Our treatment promptly dispels all outward signs of the disease, and gradually cleanses the blood of the last vestige of taint, the cure is permanent and the disease is not constantly breaking out again. Our specialty also includes all chronic diseases, such as Stricture, Varicocele, Loss of Vigor, Bladder and Kidney Diseases, etc., and we invite consultation, either at our office or by mail. Send for book and symptom blanks, mailed free in plain envelope. Correspondence confidential.

ON KIMBERLY MINE LECTURE IS GIVEN

Original Method Is Employed to Reach Atlanta.

One of the most original methods of promoting a mining company was inaugurated last night, when Respess & Comnany rented the Grand and gave an illustrated lecture for the purpose of interesting the people of Atlanta in the Kimberly gold mine, at Kimberly, Nevada.

At the beginning of the lecture Roland B. Respess, president, general manager and chief owner of the company, said that he had taken this unheard-of step that he might once and for all go on record as personally vouching for the stories that have been published telling of the wonderful wealth to be found in the mine. "If we were dishonest, we would not adopt this prominent way of selling stock, but would try to work it off quietly." The company has control of this property with its enormous deposits of gold. We frankly admit that we want to sell stock to obtain money with which to develop this property and put it on a paying basis.

"We could easily obtain capital from several large corporations if we were willing to give up the control of the company to them. As we are not willing to do this, we are selling the stock in small quantities. As I am a southerner, and know that I have a sound business proposition, I want to give to the southern people the advantage of it."

The lantern slides and the accompanying talk were most interesting. After being shown the general locality of the mine, situated as it is, eighteen miles southeast of Battle Mountain, Lander county, Nevada, the audience was taken to the works where they saw the huge dykes, where, it was said, one might easily trace the virgin gold in the ore. The hotel, the prospecting shafts, and the mills that have already been built, were then described by Mr. Respess.

At the conclusion of his lecture Mr. Respess called for short talks from a number of Georgians who had made the trip to Kmberly and personally investigated the camp. J. L. Stump, of Valdosta, Ga., reported that not only were the deposits far richer than he had dreamed of, but investigation proved that the business methods of the company were sound and conservative.

T. M. Word and W. M. Jones, both of Atlanta, also gave their hearty indorsement.

THEATERS

At the Lyric.

Miss Emma Bunting is attracting large audiences to the Lyric theater with "Tennessee's Pardner," a western mining play by Scott Marble. While "Tennessee's Pardner" is melodramatic to a degree, it is remarkable from the fact that it is played in quiet tones and without resort to the explosion of firearms, differing thus from the usual play of its type. In the part of Tennessee, the little star is seen to much advantage, and is especially attractive in one of the acts where she assumes boy's clothing.

At the Forsyth.

Matinees at the Forsyth have sprung into a great popularity since the inauguration of the bargain matinees system. Hundreds and hundreds of ladies and children are crowding into the beautiful and comfortable playhouse because of the convenient price, and the night business has kept up to the standard of the theater, which means capacity at every show. The Hawaiians have scored a tremendouse hit. There are two women and two men in the act. They are natives of the Sandwich Islands and they are the most popular vaudevillians of the week.

Committee on Arrangements.

The Atlanta Ad. Men's Club committee who are making all arrangements for attending the Omaha convention, and who will endeavor to secure delegates from the Atlanta city council and the Chamber of Commerce, is composed of St. Elmo Massengale, C. D. Wayne, Paul P. Reese, W. H. Brittain and Joseph W. Hill They have sent out the following letter to the advertising men:

"Probably you've heard of the convention in Omaha, July 18, 19 and 20. Arthur Brisbane, 'Buttermilk Charlie' Fairbanks, erstwhile vice president of the United States, and other headliners will furnish the conversation. Then there's the social side—just one pleasure after another. See daily papers for program. Those fellows out there sure do know how to make you have a good time. You must take a vacation anyway, so why not enjoy this great meeting and get a glimpse of the west? For a party of ten or more traveling together we can get a special rate from Atlanta of $45.40 for the round trip, plus Pullman fare, double berth $6.50 each way. Our plan is to have a special sleeper for the 'advertising bunch' and leave together from the union passenger depot in Atlanta via Seaboard Air Line, Saturday, July 16, at 6:30 a. m., and arrive Omaha 6 p. m. Sunday, July 17. If we can get your reservation by return mail we can make this a delightful vacation for you all the way to Omaha, while we are there, and on the return trip as well. Our idea is to have a southern crowd to go as strong as possible in a special sleeper, in view of the fact that for the first time in the history of the ad. clubs a southern man is at the head of it. This will be our own private car. Special rates have been made at the best hotel in Omaha of $2 per day for each person, two in a room, with bath."

As a number of well-known Atlanta advertising men have signified their intention of going to Omaha, and on account of the prominence of the Atlanta club in the national organization, it is felt certain that both city council and the Chamber of Commerce will have a delegation to go along with the advertising men to boost Atlanta and exploit this city's advantages throughout the middle west.

Philathea Will Entertain.—After the regular quarterly meeting of the Philathea Union, which will be held, Sunday afternoon, July 17th, at 2 o'clock, at the Immanuel Baptist church, they will go to the Soldiers' Home, where a luncheon will be given to the old soldiers. It is specially urged that each class be largely represented, and that each one shall prepare luncheon enough for two, as there will be about 50 soldiers to enjoy the hospitality of the Philatheas.

CLOSING OF FORSYTH MAY YET BE DELAYED

Recent Patronage of Theater So Good Change in Plans May Be Made.

Weather conditions make it more than uncertain as to whether the Forsyth theater will close this Saturday, and the Casino at Ponce de Leon open next Monday. And in consequence, Hugh Cardoza is playing about the hardest waiting game he has ever figured in.

Early in the week last week, the news was flashed from New York to close the Forsyth on June 9th. It was assumed that this meant the opening of the beautiful summer theater at Ponce de Leon. Then came another direction that changed up the situation, and on Thursday night Mr. Cardoza was not sure what would follow.

Ever since the announcement was made that the Casino would open there have been requests for applications, and like the wonderful return of interest in the amusement park, where the theater is located, there is every manifestation of interest in the actual summer theatricals.

CLEAN BOY TRAMP TELLS BOYS TO STAY AT HOME

Claiming that he has tramped since he was 14 years of age, and that in his rambles he has covered the United States, Canada, South America, Europe and British Isles, a boy giving his name as James Mullin, "Tourist Jim," aged 19 years, arrived in the city yesterday for a two days' sojourn preliminary to a "hike" through the east, and later Europe.

No ordinary tramp is "Tourist Jim." He claims as his bosom companion during his jaunts a mirror, a clothes brush, a bar of soap, and other toilet articles, and in reality, he has the appearance of a plainly, but neatly, dressed, intelligent lad of 20.

Jim is advising all youngsters to stay at home, and claims the distinction of having had published in 127 papers an article appealing to boys not to stray from the parental domicile. His home, he says, is in Dayton, Ohio, and he visits it annually.

FIRST MOVE MADE TO GET TERMINALS

Senate Appoints Committee to Consider Evans Property.

The senate yesterday made the first move toward the purchase of the Evans property, near Chattanooga, Tenn., for the use of the Western and Atlantic railroad by adopting a resolution of Senator Gordy for the appointment of a joint committee of three from the senate and five from the house to go to Chattanooga and inspect the sites offered the state.

The main objection now heard to the Evans site of 234½ acres, on which Governor Brown has secured options, is that it is too far from the center of the city of Chattanooga to be available for freight yards.

On this point the governor has expressed the opinion that the two miles difference will be immaterial, for the reason that 90 per cent of the freight handled in Chattanooga by the Western and Atlantic railroad moves south. Freight sent to the yards is thus started on its way south. Freight moving from the south to Chattanooga and stopped in the yards, does not move an unnecessary mile.

As to the difference of two miles in handling trains, that is immaterial, it is said, looked at in connection with the site and price of the Evans tract.

Throughout the discussion Governor Brown has preserved a silence following the submission of his message. It is apparently of little consequence to him what the legislature decides to do. He opposed what he considered a bad bargain and refused to exercise the discretion given him to purchase the property near Boyce station, on which Hon. Hooper Alexander had secured options.

Next, he went to work and secured options on a 234½-acre tract for $58,500, or $10,500 less than the 89-acre tract was priced, and submitted the question to the legislature for their consideration. In passing upon the relative merits of the two tracts, Governor Brown brought into play the information secured by him during his long connection with the Western and Atlantic railroad, during part of which time he was traffic manager.

If the legislature decides that more land in Chattanooga, Tenn., is needed by the state of Georgia to protect its railroad property and for use in the erection of shops and repair works, it is probable that the Evans tract will be favored.

FOR PROTECTION OF LIVE STOCK

Bill Introduced for Suppression of Contagious Diseases Among Stock.

The state department of agriculture is very much interested in the passage of a bill just introduced in the house by Dr. Hardman, of Jackson county, for the suppression of contagious diseases among the live stock of Georgia.

The recent epidemic of hog cholera in southwest Georgia is being referred to by the commissioner of agriculture as showing the importance to the live stock industry of the state of being prepared to fight these epidemics.

On the farm of W. B. Roddenbery, in Grady county, hog cholera broke out and reduced the herd from 170 head to 60 head within a few days. The agricultural department requested Peter F. Bahnsen, of Americus, a veterinarian of the department, to go to the scene of the trouble. Dr. Bahnsen did so, and found nine hogs sick with the cholera. He inoculated all the hogs with the serum discovered by Dr. Dorsett, of the United States department of agriculture, and the epidemic of cholera was stopped. Four of the nine hogs died, but none of the others were taken sick.

The serum costs 60 cents a dose, and it is proposed to equip a laboratory for its manufacture in Georgia and distribute it at actual cost. It is thought the cost can be reduced to 30 cents a dose, and that the benefit to the live stock interests of the state will be invaluable.

The bill of Dr. Hardman designed to accomplish this result, and to thus aid in the suppression of contagious diseases, authorizes the state veterinarian, under the direction of the commissioner of agriculture, to undertake a vigorous campaign for the suppression of all contagious diseases among live stock, including hog cholera, tuberculosis of cattle, glanders among horses and mules, and any other contagious disease existing among cattle in the state.

The laboratory for the manufacture of the serum is to be established at the State Agricultural college at Athens, and $3,000 is appropriated in the bill for this purpose. For field work, $2,000 is made available. The serum to be manufactured is to be distributed among the people wanting it, at acual cost. The money so received is to be put back into the laboratory with the idea of making it self-sustaining.

FIGHT IS MADE TO PROTECT GAME

Bill of Senator Calloway Considered on the Committee.

The bill of Senator Callaway, of Wilkes county, providing for the protection of Georgia fish and game, was brought before the committee yesterday afternoon and referred to a subcommittee, which will amend and revise it and report at a meeting to be held next Thursday.

The committee on the fish and game laws met in the hall of the house of representatives at 3:30 o'clock to hear speeches from various men interested in the movement for game protection. Enthusiastic speeches favoring the bill were heard from a large delegation, among them being Charles I. Davis, of Warm Springs, president of the State Game Preserve Association; Charles L. Hopkins, Hon. John H. Wallace, Jr., state game warden of Alabama and author of the Alabama game law, and Mr. Haskell, of Savannah.

Ward Allen, of Savannah, vehemently opposed the bill unless it should be amended, in a both humorous and pointed argument. Mr. Allen, who is a well-posted hunter and author of a number of important articles on the game question, bore written indorsements from the officials of Chatham county and the city of Savannah. In his speech he thoroughly ridiculed the bill, its author and the legislature, and strenuously advocated changes, opposing strongly the protection of immigration of birds.

The discussions consumed nearly two hours, after which the committee met in executive session and ultimately referred the question to a subcommittee.

ASK THE RIGHT TO ERECT PLAZA

Civic Center Bill Is Introduced in the House.

An important step toward securing the construction of the plaza to connect the Washington, Whitehall, Broad and Forsyth streets viaducts was taken yesterday when Messrs. Brown, McElreath and Alexander, of Fulton county, introduced in the house of representatives a bill authorizing the city to erect the plaza.

It is necessary to secure the permission of the state to construct the plaza, because it is to be located over the Western and Atlantic railroad, which is the property of the state, and it is planned to erect an office building where the union depot now stands.

The measure also gives the city the right of eminent domain over the property of any other railroad which may be involved in the erection of the plaza, or individual which may be involved in the erection of the property, so that such property may be condemned, if necessary.

It is also provided in the bill that the plaza shall be constructed by a corporation, which shall be governed by a board of directors of fifteen members, among whom shall be the governor, the attorney general, the chairman of the railroad commission, the mayor of Atlanta and the chairmen of the finance and the street committees of the council of Atlanta.

Every effort will be made to secure the passage of the bill at the present session of the legislature.

MUST GIVE PROOF BEFORE JUNE FIRST

When Man Removes to Another County After Registering.

The Constitution yesterday received the following letter asking about the right to vote of a man who changes his residence after registering:

"Editor Constitution: Will you please examine section 10 of the registration laws, acts of 1908, page 62, and let the people of Georgia know through your valuable paper how a party removing from one county to another in this state between the time of registering and the time of election can be allowed to vote. That section pretends to provide for such, but is utterly unintelligible as it is printed. Yours very truly, J. B. PATTERSON,

"Editor The Forsyth County News.

"Cumming, Ga."

Reference to the registration law as amended by act of 1908 shows that a citizen of Georgia who registers in one county and later removes to another, is allowed, according to the best understanding of the law's provisions, to appear before the registrars and show that he is a qualified voter.

However, if he removes his residence after June 1, he will not be allowed to vote in the new county of his residence. The law requires that tax collectors in each county shall furnish alphabetical lists of registered voters to the registrars ten days after the books close. The registrars are to meet on April 20 following (or on Monday, the 21st, if the 20th falls on Sunday), and examine the lists and revise them. They must finish their work by June 1.

Thus, if a voter presents to the registrars proof that he is registered in another county, on or before June 1, he will be entitled to vote in the new county of his residence. After that date, he cannot be entered on the lists.

Section 10 of the act approved August 15, 1908, reads (The punctuation is carefully followed):

"Section 10. Be it further enacted, That if any person shall change his residence from one militia district to another or from one county to another between the time of paying his taxes and signing the oath in the voters' book and the time of any election in the district or county into which he removes be placed upon the list of registered voters for the district or county into which he has so removed for said election at which he would be qualified to vote, he shall have the right upon application to the registrars and satisfactory proof before them that he will be qualified to vote at said election, with the same rights as others registered for said election."

ATLANTA EXCHANGE SECURES OFFICES

More Applications Received Than There Are Available Seats.

The Atlanta stock exchange has secured offices on the top floor of the Forsyth street theater building and the work of fitting out these offices is now going on. A call for the first payment on the seats sold will be made at once. The exchange will be ready to begin business in ten days, it is said.

The offices will provide room for the boards as well as an office for the consultation of members of the exchange with their clients.

Encouragement is being received on every hand by the promoters of the exchange. Twenty seats were disposed of within a week, and with only five remaining, the governing board of the exchange finds applicants for more than four times this number. Inquiries from Columbus, Macon, Augusta, Savannah and Jacksonville have been received relative to securing seats.

A number of corporations not only in Atlanta but throughout the state have signified their intention of listing their stock with the exchange, and the promoters feel that the success of the enterprise is already assured.

COTTON LEAVES DROP ON BEN HILL FARMS

The Continuous Rains Have Wrought Great Damage to the Crops.

Fitzgerald, July 7.—(Special.)—The continuous rains of the past month have not only prevented the cultivation of cotton and corn, and so produced a heavy growth of grass, but have caused the leaves of the cotton to turn brown and drop off.

The cotton has practically stopped its growth and this section will not have over half a crop even if the rain should stop now and give the farmers a chance to clean their fields.

Corn is looking fine and will make a good crop if the grass can be kept down.

SENATE DEBATE ON INCOME TAX

Move to Table the Bill Is Beaten.

Senate Adopts Joint Resolution to Send Committee of Three From Senate and Five From House to Investigate Purchase of Chattanooga Property.

DAY IN THE SENATE.

Adopted joint resolution for appointment of a committee of three from the senate and five from the house to investigate purchase of property in Chattanooga, Tenn., for the use of the Western and Atlantic railroad.

Refused by a vote of 22 to 21 to lay income tax bill on the table.

Appointed committee to consider erection of a state museum.

Governor Charles E. Hughes, of New York, and Elihu Root, a senator of the United States from the state of New York, were pitted against each other in the Georgia state senate yesterday in the debate over the federal income tax bill. The two distinguished New Yorkers were not present in person, but their views were liberally quoted by Georgia state senators.

Senator Root was a strong supporter of the income tax amendment. Governor Hughes opposed it on the ground that it would make state and municipal bonds subject to federal taxation. The legislature of New York rejected the amendment.

The fact that New York, the home of American millionaires, rejected the income tax amendment, was the strongest argument by states like Georgia should support it, said one of the speakers in the senate.

A test vote on the question was taken during the morning on the motion of Senator Longley to table the bill. The vote on this was a tie, 21 ayes and 21 nays, and was broken by President Slaton voting in the negative. The motion to table was lost. This was followed by a motion by Mr. Irvin to adjourn, and this was also voted down.

How Senators Voted.

On the test vote to table the bill until the house had acted, the members of the senate voted as follows:

Ayes—Akin, Bowen, Burwell, Burch, Calloway of the tenth, Calloway of the twenty-ninth, Calhoun, Day, Griffith, Irwin, King, Longley, Mays, Morris, McDowell, McCollum, McClure, Price, Pitts, Rutherford, Rudicil—21.

Nays — Blackwell, Cates, Conley, Gordy, Harrell, Harben, Johnson, Jackson, Kemp, Mathews, McLean, McCurry, McWilliams, Patterson, Slater, Sellers, Stevens, Thompson, Ward, Womble, Wood, President Slaton—22.

To Erect Museum.

A resolution of Mr. Davis of Dougherty, calling for the appointment of a joint committee to consider the advisability of erecting a museum for the state's valuable relics, and in which to exhibit its resources, was passed.

The chair appointed as the senate members of the committee, Messrs. Mathews, McCullom, and Harrell.

Senator Mathews in resuming his argument on the income tax amendment, said every vote cast in the senate should be carefully considered, as each would be of tremendous, far-reaching importance. One vote might defeat the ratification of the amendment by Georgia, he said, and adverse votes by seven or eight more states, would defeat the amendment, and thus a wise tax measure which would put upon wealth a larger burden of the expense of government would be lost.

He read from a discussion of the bill by Senator Root, of New York, whom he referred to as possibly the ablest lawyer in the United States. Senator Root takes the position contrary to that held by Gov. Hughes, that the amendment will not extend the government's taxing power to state or municipal securities. The idea of the amendment is to except the income tax from that provision of the constitution, which requires direct taxes to be apportioned among the states in proportion to population. He pointed out that the argument of Senator Root was certainly disinterested and honest. He asked if Georgia, which was at the other end of the rope in the tug of war and paid in more in the natural treasury than it got back, was going to reject the amendment in the interest of New York millionaires.

Move to Table Bill.

Mr. Burwell suggested that in the interest of economy of time the measure should be laid on the table. Mr. Longley made the motion, and Mr. Gordy called for the ayes and nays, and the call was sustained.

When Mr. Harrell asked permission to explain his vote, Mr. Burwell made the point that he was out of order. The point was overruled by President Slaton.

Mr. Jackson, in explaining his vote, said the action of the senate had already been delayed needlessly long and that a vote must be had on the measure if it took all summer. "I put you on notice that you must go on record on this matter. You can't claim to be democrats and go back on a leading principle of the democratic party for the past 20 years. You can't claim to be honest tariff reformers and oppose this measure for equitable taxation. If you go back on this measure you will convict yourself of being true to nothing and to nobody; you will be untrue to your country and to your party."

On the motion to lay on the table the vote was 21 to 21. President Slaton voted "no," and the motion was lost.

Mr. Irwin made a motion to adjourn, but the motion was lost.

Mr. Calhoun resumed the debate on the bill. He said he was not bound by any democratic platform declaration in favor of an income tax. "I will never stand on this floor and vote to give the federal government this right," he said.

Mr. Johnson asked if Georgia could levy an income tax on the Southern railroad.

In reply Mr. Calhoun said a corporation tax was already assessed against that company.

"When you engraft this amendment on our organic law, you vote to make it a part of our laws for 100 or 1,000 years, if the government lasts that long."

Asked if he would favor the income tax if he knew it would mean tariff reduction, he said he was not prepared to say. He thought the south was coming to favor tariff protection on its products and industries.

Mr. Irwin next secured the floor and held it until the hour of adjournment arrived. He will resume his speech when the senate meets this morning. He opposed the bill as being in conflict with the rights and powers of the people of the s[illegible]

$186,600 VOTED FOR SANITARIUM

Favorable Action by the House Committee.

Sum Is to Be Used for Maintenance and for Making Improvements — Superintendent L. M. Jones Tells of the Needs of the Institution.

Appropriations amounting to $186,600, to be used for maintenance and for making improvements at the state sanitarium at Milledgeville, were given favorable consideration by the house committee on appropriations at a meeting held yesterday afternoon.

The bills making these extra appropriations to the state institution for the insane were introduced by Mr. Vinson, of Baldwin, and in addition to the author there were several other persons present who were interested in the measures and who urged their favorable consideration.

For Erection of Hospital.

One of the bills provided for an appropriation of $60,000 for the erection of a hospital for the treatment of patients afflicted with diseases other than mental diseases.

Another bill provides for the appropriation of $36,600 for the purpose of making repairs on buildings at the asylum, such as enlarging the kitchen, and to put in a track scale for the weighing of coal.

A third bill provides for the appropriation of $50,000 for the maintenance of the institution, in addition to the regular annual appropriations for this purpose. It provides that of this sum $25,000 shall be available in 1910 and $35,000 shall be available in 1911.

A fourth bill provides for the appropriation of $15,000 for the erection of a tuberculosis hospital, and a fifth appropriates $15,000 for the building of an underground water reservoir.

Needs of Institution.

Representatives of the state sanitarium at Milledgeville appeared before the committee to present the needs of that institution. The authorities insist that at least $50,000 will be needed this year to maintain the large property and the 4,000 patients who are treated each year.

In addition to an increase in the regular fund for maintenance, the sanitarium officials asked for $15,000 for a tuberculosis hospital. This is represented to be an actual necessity if the inmates are to be protected from the scourges of this disease. Another imperatively-needed improvement was a home for the nurses, which would cost $30,000.

The principal statement before the committee was made by Dr. L. M. Jones, superintendent of the sanitarium. He said the average number of patients maintained in the hospital last year was 3,300, although 4,000 had been trtated during the year. There are 295 epileptics and 77 feeble-minded children, whom he thought ought to be cared for in some other way than in such an institution. He also pointed out that senile old people should not be committed to the institution.

Nurses' Home Needed.

The difficulty of keepisg nurses at the sanitarium was stressed by Dr. Jones. He said the work was hard and the pay small.

As to the pay of resident physicians, he said they were paid $600 for the first year's work, and $1,200 the second year.

Dr. Jones stated that at the close of the war there was only one negro inmate; in 1882, there were 275, and at present, 1,100 negroes. This number, he said, was larger than should be confined in the space available for negro patients. He said $100,000 a year was needed to take care of the negroes alone.

The need of improvements in some of the old buildings was emphasized by the superintendent.

For State Normal School.

The committee heard brief statements from S. B. Brown, of Albany, a prominent business man of southwest Georgia, and member of the board of trustees of the State Normal college at Athens, and Professor E. C. Branson, president of the college, on the needs of that institution. These gentlemen asked for $5,000 from the state to equip a $25,000 library given by Mr. Carnegie. They also reported that the school extension work had produced wonderful results.

To Assistant Librarians.

The committee agreed to favorably report the bill of Mr. Reid, of Campbell, to appropriate $281.25 to the first and assistant librarians at the state capitol. The amount of $202.50 is due to the first assistant and $78.75 is due the second assistant for work performed in 1909.

BAR CITY EMPLOYEES FROM ELECTION JOBS

Bill to Prohibit Them Acting as Managers and Clerks Is Passed.

By the vote of 113 to 4, the house of representatives yesterday morning passed the bill by Mr. McCarthy, of Chatham, prohibiting city officials and employees from acting as managers and clerks in elections for mayors and aldermen.

The bill as originally prepared by Mr. McCarthy provided that the law should apply only to cities of not less than 10,000 population. The corporations committee, which had it under consideration, amended the bill so that it should read "in cities of not less than 5,000 population."

Mr. Edwards, of Walton, offered an amendment striking the population clause, and inserting in lieu thereof "any incorporated city in said state," and the amendment was adopted.

The original bill also provided that no votes polled at a ballot box where a city employee or official presided as manager should be counted. Mr. Fullbright, of Burke, objected to this feature on the ground that it visits the penalty upon the voted and not upon the guilty official. An amendment which he offered was adopted, providing that any person violating the law should be punished as for a misdemeanor.

The bill is now ready for consideration by the senate.

Klinger Succeeds McCabe.

Louisville, July 7.—Announcement was made today by the Illinois Central railroad that Christopher Klinger, for twenty-eight years in the employ of that road, would succeed T. B. McCabe as commercial agent at Louisville. Mr. McCabe died recently.

NO SUCH OFFICE AS GEN. MANAGER

Waterworks Head Simply Chosen at Will of Board.

Will Be Necessary to Create the Office Before the Incumbent Can Be Chosen by Popular Vote — Amendment Will Have to Be Made to the Bill.

It was pointed out yesterday that there is no such office as general manager of the Atlanta waterworks.

And how, it was asked, can the people vote for candidates for an office which does not exist?

The position is purely an implied one, it is stated, created by the water board and subject wholly to its will.

It is apparent, therefore, that it will be necessary to amend the present law so as to create the office before it can be provided that the incumbent shall be chosen by popular vote.

Not Mentioned in Law.

The water board was created by an amendment to the city charter enacted in 1877, and the board was given authority to employ a competent engineer to construct the system; also to employ "such clerks and laborers" as it might see fit.

This law has never been amended; therefore the position of general manager was created by the board, by implication, under the "clerks and laborers" clause of the act.

Likewise, under the present charter amendment bill, which has already been introduced, it is stated the election by the people would not take place until December, 1911, as it provides that such election shall take place at the expiration of the incumbent's term. Inasmuch as the office is not a statutory one, there is some dispute on this point.

Will Offer Amendment.

Unquestionably the foregoing facts have been overlooked by the city council in the preparation of the charter amendment and council itself, it is expected, will ask that an amendment be offered to the present bill creating the office of general manager of the waterworks system, his duties to be defined by council.

It is stated also that the amendment will include a clause providing that the first election for general manager shall take place the first Wednesday in December, 1910, so as to remove any doubt that may be entertained on this score.

NO EDUCATION BY COMPULSION

Bill Fails to Get Constitutional Majority.

Many Speeches Made on Compulsory Education Measure. Dr. Littleton, of Richmond, Gives Notice He Will Move for Reconsideration.

WHAT THE HOUSE DID.

House defeats the bill providing for compulsory education, the bill lacking six votes of the number necessary for a constitutional amendment.

Bill introduced providing for the Atlanta "civic center."

House passes measure prohibiting city officials and employees from acting as managers.

For the lack of six votes, making a constitutional majority of 93, the compulsory education bill was defeated in the house of representatives yesterday. The vote on the measure was 87 for to 68 against.

As soon as the result of the vote was announced, Dr. Littleton, of Richmond, stated that, at the proper time he would move to reconsider the actio of the house in defeating the measur There were nearly forty members the house who were either absent failed to vote on the measure, and the advocates of the measure believe that with every member present who favors it its passage is assured.

Provisions of Bill.

The bill was introduced by Mr. Littleton, of Richmond, but the committee on education which had it under consideration offered a substitute bill, which Mr. Littleton favored, and this was the measure which the house defeated Thursday morning.

The bill provided that every parent or person having under his or her control a child of school age should be required to send it to school for a period not less than sixty days each year; that the county or city boards of education shall have the power of enforcing the provisions of the act, and that a fine of not more than $10 or imprisonment not exceeding ten days should be imposed upon persons found guilty of not complying with the act.

The provisions of the act did not apply to children who have completed the fourth grade of school work, nor to those who are mentally and physically disabled, nor to those living more than 3 miles from a schoolhouse.

To Protect the Child.

The consideration of the measure provoked a rather warm discussion.

Mr. Littleton opened the argument in its behalf. He said that the bill is designed to protect the child whose parents are careless and shiftless, and who allow it to grow up in ignorance. He showed how Georgia is far behind in educational matters, and that the only way to secure the presence of thousands of children of the state in the schools is to force them to go.

Mr. Baker, of Lumpkin, the first speaker to oppose the bill, declared it strikes a direct blow at the liberty of the people, and that he is opposed to anything which has in it the essence of compulsion. Mr. Baker declared he is an ardent advocate of education, but he believes the people of the state will send their children to school without having to be forced to do it.

Mr. Hardeman, of Jefferson, urged that the bill be defeated on the ground that it is not necessary. He said they do not need it in his county, and they do not need it anywhere else in the state.

"Will the gentleman tell us how high up Jefferson county stands in the percentage of illiteracy?" asked Mr. Brown, of Murray.

Jefferson Record Furnished.

Mr. Hardeman was sure he did not know.

"Then, if I will furnish him the record showing that Jefferson county has a very large percentage of illiterates, will the gentleman read it?"

"I will be glad to do so," replied the speaker.

Mr. Brown handed Mr. Hardeman the record, but the gentleman from Jefferson never referred to it any more. He declared, however, that Jefferson county is just about as well off, when it comes to intelligence, as most any other county in Georgia.

"I stand for education all the time," said he, "but I am opposed to this bill. It is not needed. The people of this state are rapidly responding to the appeals for education, and the percentage of illiteracy is rapidly decreasing."

Mr. Alexander, of DeKalb, urged the passage of the bill. He said the time has come when Georgia should force people who have children to send them to school. Their failure to do so, he said, enured to the injury of the entire state. He scoffed at the idea of paternalism which some speaker had suggested, and declared that there is not a single class of people in this state whose private business is not protected by paternalism, and that the farmer, the banker, the shipper, all, invoke the paternal aid of the state in the conduct of their business.

Mr. McElreath, of Fulton, pointed out that Georgia is one of only seven states in the union which have not enacted a compulsory education law.

Other Counties Need Bill.

Mr. Fullbright, of Burke, declared that, while Jefferson county and Lumpkin county may not need this law, there are other counties in the state which do need it, because shiftless and careless parents do not allow their children to take advantage of the schools.

Mr. Lovejoy, of Troup, argued in behalf of his amendment authorizing the county boards of education to say to what children the provisions of the law may apply.

Mr. Edwards, of Walton, presented the argument that 12 per cent of the white children between the ages of 10 to 14, one out of five, can neither read nor write.

Mr. Brown, of Murray, made a strong speech in behalf of the passage of the bill.

Mr. McMichael, of Marion, chairman of the committee recommending that the bill be passed, spoke in its favor.

"The purpose of this bill is to reach the no-account daddies," declared Mr. McMichael, "the daddies who are sitting around whittling on dry goods boxes, and who refuse to send their children to school."

The vote for and against the bill was as follows:

Ayes—Adams, Alexander, of DeKalb; Alexander, of Fulton; Alley, Anderson, of Chatham; Armistead, Atherton, Atkinson, Barksdale, Barrett, Brinson, of Emanuel; Brown, of Fulton; Brown, of Henry; Brown, of Murray; Burch, Buxton, Calbeck, Cannon, Candler, Cowan, Drawdy, Edwards, Elder, Evans, Faircloth, Fender, Field, of DeKalb; Fields, of Crisp; Fullbright, Garlington, Gastley, Gillis, Godley, Griffin, of Twiggs; Guyton, Hardman, of Jackson; Harrington, Hatfield, Helms, Hendrix, Hill, Hubbard, Huie, Johnson, of Jeff Davis; Johnson, of Towns; Jones, of Laurens; Jones, of Mitchell; Kennedy, Kicklighter, Littleton, Lovejoy, Martin, Miller, of Ware; Millikin, Moss McFarland, McCarthy, McCutcheon, McElreath, McMahon, McMichael, of Butts; McMichael, of Marion; McWhorter, Parker, of Talbot; Persons, Pickett, Pierce, Porter, Price, Reese, Roberts, Shirley, Slade, Smith, of Gilmer; Stovall, Stubbs, of Putnam; Tarver, Tippins, Tracey, Tuggle, Turnipseed, Upshaw, Walters, Whitley, Wright, of Crady; Wohlwender; Wright, of Floyd—87.

Evidently, Texas is not enthused over the black Jack that hit Jeffries.

The grist of the divorce mill isn't fitting to the famished Reno appetite.

It's pretty safe for the weatherwise to predict real summer "'long about fall time."

Doubtless, the popular novelists got new plots for stories in the Reno divorce temple.

The Zeppelin airship bumped hard, nowithstanding the newspaper men gave it so much space.

Strange to say, the Colonel has no congratulations for a legislature with the ability to run itself.

The Colonel might even-up matters by inviting the New York legislature to Oyster Bay—one at a time.

Watching the dead-broke ranks at Reno, it's a wonder Jack London didn't write "The Call of the Riled."

Goveror Hughes is not able to control the situation, but he may be a better judge of it when he gets on the bench.

Before one big fight is forgotten, the alleged discovery of Dr. Cook's Mt. McKinley records brings on another.

An exchange says the Great American Novel will deal with the airship. Thus it is literature goes higher and higher.

Dr. Roosevelt is in danger of exhausting the prescription blank supply for the benefit of played-out politicians.

And now it is given out that the insurgents went to see him solely to discover whether or no he had the "come-back."

The Jacksonville Times-Union observes that President Taft "looms larger." If that's the case, the insurgents ill not be able to get around him.

Eminent professors leaving this country in search of relics. Why not wait until the next congressional returns are in, and apply to the republican party?

RATIFICATION OR STULTIFICATION!

Today the Georgia senate votes on the federal proposal to amend the constitution so that an income tax will be permissible.

For years we have pretended to be democrats. For years Georgia has at least voted, and that overwhelmingly, as a democratic state.

One democratic convention after another has declared in favor of an income tax.

A democratic administration would have vitalized the traditional will of the party, had it not been for the intervention of the supreme court.

The issue has been put squarely up to the state legislatures by congress.

If the democratic legislature of democratic Georgia is not committed to this measure, and if it does not so vote, then we might as well go out of business, politically speaking.

It is either ratification or stultification.

Last year there might have been an alternative.

This year there is none!

REGULATING JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

Gratifying progress is promised by the recent action of the Fulton county commissioners regarding readjustment in justice court jurisdiction.

The commissioners indorsed a recommendation by the May grand jury that the jurisdiction of justices of the peace be restricted to their respective districts.

They also adopted a resolution by Commissioner Palmer, which requests Fulton county's legislative representatives to vitalize this change at the current session of the general assembly.

While the legislature is about it, its plain duty is to make a clean sweep and revolutionize the system generally.

The whole justice court procedure of the state is antiquated, and takes little cognizance of the change in living conditions or of the rapid multiplication of other courts and jurisdictions.

It is also too loose, and susceptible of misinterpretation, so that in the past it has often happened that the most grievous malpractice sprung up under the guise of legality.

There have been abuses here and there in the justice courts in Atlanta, as well as throughout the state.

And, as a matter of fact, the possibility of abuse is inseparable from tribunals that may legally operate, sometimes with an arbitrary power not possessed by higher courts, and, again, with a perversion of function which works hardship on the needy, the friendless or the unsuspecting.

We believe the great majority of justices will themselves welcome a radical revision of the procedure under which they operate. The legislature could direct its energies toward no reform more practical or needful.

WORK THAT SHOULD BE PUSHED.

For the second time within the last few weeks it has been made manifest that the paving of Capitol avenue and Washington street beyond the corporate limits on the south side, and Peachtree from Fifteenth street to Brookwood, on the north side, has been delayed, not by the county, but by the city authorities.

The county commissioners agreed to take up the task at the corporate limits in all three instances. It has also agreed to undertake the paving of Fifteenth street from Peachtree to Piedmont avenue.

But the county can do nothing so long as sewer and water mains are not down, and improvements projected by the street car company have not been materialized.

The gangs could, it is true, go ahead with the work upon the present status. But that would mean doing it all over again, at useless expense and inconvenience.

A prime factor in the equation is the delay of property owners on all four avenues. City ordinances require that sewer and water connections be made with all properties, improved or vacant, before paving goes down. Many property owners on the stretches named have complied with the ordinance. These property owners are now complaining, and they have a right to complain at the delay.

Others living along these streets have been slow in effecting connections. In some instances, the fact that the city has not yet put main sewer and water pipes past their doors is the responsible factor.

All these are, however, side issues. The central fact is that the county is ready to do the work and the streets should be put in readiness with as little delay as possible to receive the much-needed paving that is to be done by the county.

Since the streets involved are among the most important within the corporate limits, it is the part of wisdom that the city should complete its part and put the remainder up to the county at the earliest possible moment.

HIS EXCELLENCY OF NEVADA.

Behold, now, Governor Dickerson, of Nevada, the banner prize-fight and divorce commonwealth of the nation.

It was by grace of the governor's non-interference that Reno was enabled to stage a relic of barbarism that sent twentieth-century America back temporarily to the stone age.

The governor frankly jubilates over the fight.

He thinks it was the greatest ever! He thinks it was "on the square." Lots of contests between bull-elephants in the jungle are all that, your excellency.

And this twentieth-century governor is anxious for another fight, so elevated is his soul over the one that has just gone into inglorious history.

He thinks "the holding of this event in Nevada was beneficial rather than injurious, . . . as it has made the possibilities and natural advantages of this state, with its undeveloped wealth, familiar to many."

Selah!

Along with the story of the good governor's overflowing enthusiasm comes the news of hundreds stranded in Reno, bankrupted, not only by their wagers on the fight, but by the scores of games of chance that flourished openly in this little rotten borough.

Doubtless, these were the "natural advantages" to which the governor refers. In Reno, you could glut your barbarous instincts with a glance at the prize-fight. When that palled, you could let the croupiers rake in your shekels and go back home "strapped"—if you ever got home at all.

Despite the governor, we doubt if the people of the state will stand for another exhibition that gives their commonwealth this brand of advertising before civilization. We doubt, too, if national public sentiment will again permit a single state, even if it willed to so lower itself, to contaminate the morals of the entire nation—and that state with a population hardly approaching the population of the city of Atlanta.

INCREASING THE JUDGES' SALARIES.

It is to be hoped the general assembly will see fit to place its approval upon measures now up for its consideration, the enactment of which would mean substantial and deserved increase in the salaries of judges of the supreme court and of the court of appeals.

The bill touching the salaries of the justices of the court of appeals has passed the senate. It now goes back to the house for concurrence in the senate amendment, wherein the salary is increased from four to five thousand dollars a year.

It is a debatable question if the entire judicial system of Georgia does not demand rearrangement, both as to machinery and salaries. But the general assembly should at least provide for proper compensation for the judiciary upon the work of which so much depends concerning the speedy and impartial administration of justice in Georgia.

It is common knowledge that it is often an act of personal sacrifice for a man to accept an appointment, especially on the supreme bench. With the cost of living and conditions generally recording material change, the status is not only unjust, but is apt, at any time, to bar the state from obtaining the best talent at its disposal.

The relief asked is not unreasonable, and should be accorded.

BANNING THE FIGHT PICTURES.

The city council could not, in justice to decency and the public welfare, have adopted any other course than to prohibit the exhibition in Atlanta of moving pictures of the Reno disgrace.

It is needless to speak of the other side, since there is no other side.

As to the bluff of the promoters that they will strive by legal means to force their product on protesting communities, that deserves classification as near-humor.

An important result of the national attitude in this matter is likely to be its effect upon prize-fighting.

The latter is a commercial proposition, pure and simple.

Now, if the moving pictures, one of the largest sources of revenue from such spectacles, are to be shut off, there will be less inspiration in the future to hold these human baiting matches.

Sustaining this view is evidence that the country's action in the present instance is taken as much from the standpoint of disapproval of the brutal features as of the racial menace.

"JUST FROM GEORGIA"

The Congressional Vacation.

They've broke up house in congress—left Washington for good,

They go to fix their fences—to show their wit an' worth,
An' some will take the platform, an' all will want the earth.

They've broke up house in congress—their summer holiday,
When some of the explainers explain themselves away;
Oh, they'll fuss around the fences in the place that gave them birth,
While some will take the platform, an' all will want the earth!

Politics the Billville Way.

Candidates are as thick as redbugs at a picnic, and some of them are just about as popular.

Whoop 'er up, boys, in the legislature, and if there be any $10 bills to come our way, hustle 'em along while bacon's 20 cents a pound.

We are grateful for fine, cooling breezes every day at the campmeeting tent. They temper the red-hot sermons in which the preachers tell us just where we're going to. But we have our suspicions when the candidates rise in meeting and shout "Glory, hallelula!"

So They're Takin' of It Cool.

Too hot to hoe the cotton—to holler at the mule:
Too hot to rush the bills through, so they're takin' of it cool.
From Billville up to Brownville the weather takes the prize,
As hot as the Hereafter to a sinner's shiny eyes.

Hot there, on the hilltop,
And in the vale below,
And Satan's in the weather
When the wind don't blow.

We're not so fur from falltime, when the dollars bright will rule;
But it's hot enough fer hammocks an' fer takin' of it cool.
The sun is like a blister in the warm round of the skies,—
Oh, it's hot as the Hereafter to a sinner's shiny eyes!

Hot there, on the hilltop,
And where the daisies grow,
And Satan's in the weather
When the wind don't blow.

A Few Queer Ones.

Here are some of the odd ones in weekly newspapers:

The Anthony Republican calls attention to a Wabaunsee county candidate who advertises that a "discrepancy" in his health prevents him from working at his business, but makes him just right for register of deeds.

"W. C. Palmer says: 'If you see the motions of a small boy undressing for bed, and then see him undress at the swimming hole, you wouldn't believe he was the same boy.' The finest music on earth cannot fully satisfy a boy's ear. He would rather hear something bust."

Says the Howard Courant: "Nellaye G. is 23 years old. She lets on she is only 18, but I know when she happened, and it was in the summer of 1887. Her mother is notified that Nellaye (whose real name is Penelope) is wearing dresses much too short for a spin of 23."

Where He Draws the Line.

As a general rule the profound Georgia mule
Will face bayonets and bullets and gunners;
But he draweth the line, with philosophy fine,
And kicks at the candidate-runners!

Georgia Texts.

The road to heaven is straight enough, but if you tarry by the moonshine hills you'll sure wobble on the way.

The fine, healthy country doesn't seem to need saving, but the candidate must have an excuse for being in the race.

The office never gets lost seeking the man, who is generally waiting for it in the middle of the road.

The Verdict.

"What—what has congress done?
Speak, citizens, or henceforth hold your peace!
"Adjourned! Adjourned!" is heard from everyone.
"And made the gas bills cease!"

CHILD TELLS PATHETIC TALE OF FOSTER MOTHER'S DEATH

Augusta, Ga., July 7.—(Special.)—That brief paragraph carried in the Associated Press dispatches this morning, saying that Tom Desmuke had killed his wife on the Savannah road, three miles from the city of Augusta, by cutting her throat with a knife, does not begin to give an idea of the horrible atrocity the Richmond county authorities were today called upon to investigate.

When he killed his wife there was no one in the one room where they lived, except Desmuke, his wife, and a little 9-year-old adopted daughter, the only eye witness, and who in her simple, childish way tells a story which would wring sympathy from the heart of an English headsman.

In a little two-room house, the couple lived, eking out a meager existence in which whatever there was worth living for came more largely through the wife than the husband. The people for miles around knew Mrs. Desmuke as a woman, though steeped in poverty, of high character, considerable ambition, and worthy of the respect they gave her.

To her husband she was dutiful in every respect, and to his wants and his care she devoted herself with scrupulous attention.

Desmuke was a drinker, it is said. A bottle, the contents partly consumed, was in the room of death, where the wife was found in her own blood.

Wednesday night he came home to find the wife and little girl seated in the back door of the little cabin. How long he had been there before attacking the woman, the child does not remember, or can not fix it time. It was evidently some little time, however, from the fact that he was entirely disrobed of every garment except a top-shift when arrested by County Officer Tom Gay.

Between broken sobs the little girl verbally pictures the "father," with no apparent reason, suddenly turning to the "mother," seated on the door sill, with the admonition: "I'm going to kill you," and the slash of a razor across one side of the woman's throat. Neighbors heard both the girl and the woman scream—and found the woman dying in an immense pool of her own blood.

After the death blow had been dealt, according to the child, the passive wife showed no fury for the husband, but—and the manner of telling it is pitiful in the extreme—she begged the little one to bring her a basin and water, quickly, to wash away the blood. As the mother's strength faded with the flow of her life blood, she took the little child's hand, "and," says the little tot, "she told me to be a good girl, 'because I'm gone,'"—then she dropped over to the floor where she was found by Officer Gay and two neighbors.

Desmuke's only comment on his deed, when arrested was: "You'll find another dead one in there besides my wife." He has not explained what he meant.

When Officer Gay first knocked on the front door of the house there was no response. Immediately following the second call from the Officer Desmuke came to the door, clad only in a shirt, and made but slight resistance when put under arrest.

He was sent to the county jail, in Augusta, and the little girl, then almost a nervous wreck, was taken to the home of the county officer and put to bed.

PRECAUTION TAKEN AGAINST BOLL WEEVIL

Transportation Companies Are Warned About Handling Cotton Seed.

Warning is being given the various transportation companies which enter Georgia by State Entomologist E. L. Worsham against handling cotton seed, cotton seed hulls, cotton seed lint or or cotton from those sections of the south known to be infected with boll weevil, unless such shipments are accompanied by an affidavit from the entomologist of that state who declares the product did not come from an infected section of the state. It has been reported to Dr. Worsham that on account of the scarcity of cotton seed hulls in Georgia now dealers in this state are importing hulls from other sections of the south. It is feared that in this way the Mexican boll weevil, which is known to be on its way to Georgia, may arrive sooner than it is calculated upon.

In speaking of this situation Dr. Worsham said: "The law of Georgia, in regard to quarantining against the possible entry of the boll weevil into this state, through the medium of transportation lines, was passed in 1904, and is both clear and explicit. By its terms transportation lines are prohibited from hauling into this state any cotton seed, cotton seed hulls, cotton seed lint or cotton from any state which is known to have boll weevil, or which may have developed this insect since the law was passed, unless such shipments bear the affidavit of the state entomologist of that state who will swear the products shipped were not grown in the infected section of the state and the shipment is absolutely free from all taint of the boll weevil. We are having all shipments made into this state watched now. It has been reported to this department that on account of the scarcity of hulls in Georgia shipments are being made into this state from other sections of the south. Any shipment from an infected state, not accompanied by an affidavit, will be seized and destroyed, and the offending carrier prosecuted. Georgia's cotton crop must be protected."

The ring is of a very unique design and Mr. Hardeman states the owner can recover it by seeing him at the capitol and giving a description of it.

REAL ESTATE AGENTS MEET THIS AFTERNOON

Atlanta Property Boosters Will Form an Organization.

The real estate agents of Atlanta will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock in chamber of commerce rooms in Empire building, for the purpose of organizing a local association. Many of the most prominent agents are behind the movement.

There are between four and five hundred agents in the city, and no organization has ever been effected, while most of the large cities have organizations. There is now a national organization also which the Atlanta agents want to join.

The object will be to have a banquet once a year with speakers of note on phases of real estate; to promote fraternal feeling among the agents; and to do such public good as may suggest itself, and aid in the elevation and benefit of the profession.

No stringent rules will be passed to regulate the methods of individual businesses. It is viewed as another step for the upbuilding of Atlanta. Real estate fraternity forms a very important factor in the business of Atlanta. The association will be formed on a basis to endure and to be of use. A large attendance will be present.

GENERAL COUNCIL HOLDS SPECIAL SESSION TODAY

Important Reports From Two Committees Will Be Heard.

There will be a special session of the general council this afternoon, at 3 o'clock, for the purpose of hearing reports from two committees, one on the bids for waterworks filters, and the other on a law for pensioning city officials.

The committee on filters is as follows: Chambers, Vaughan, Winn, Johnston and Greer. This committee will meet this morning at 10 o'clock in the mayor's office to decide upon two bids that went before the water board. After one company had made the lowest bid, the matter, by agreement, was reopened, and the two companies submitted new bids. On the second trial the New York company outbid the Philadelphia company, which was not the case at first. The procedure was questioned by some members of the water board and the bond commission, and hence it will be decided by council.

The special committee on pensions is as follows: Grant, Hancock, Pittman, Winn, Pomeroy. It will meet at 11:30 o'clock.

CITY NEWS

Aldermanic Board Acts.—The aldermanic board met yesterday afternoon and passed favorably upon all the papers adopted by council last Wednesday with the exception of a resolution selling a private citizen some of the old belgian blocks from Marietta street.

Howard Will Speak.—Hon. William Schley Howard, candidate for congress from the fifth congressional district for the seat now occupied by Hon. Leonidas Livingston, will address the voters of Fulton county in the basement of the courthouse tonight. The speaking will begin at 8 o'clock sharp. The public is invited to hear Mr. Howard. He will be introduced by Attorney John Y. Smith.

Improvement Club Meets.—At the meeting of the Fifth Ward Improvement Club this evening action will be taken to prevent, if possible, the closing of the Bellwood railroad crossing, and the question of securing a permanent injunction against the city's using the dumping grounds on the west side will be discussed. Other important matters will be taken up, and the aldermen and councilmen and all members are requested to be present. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock at 700½ Marietta street.

Greek's Bond Forfeited.—Pete Syracson, the young Greek who was arrested on the charge of insulting the wife of Pete Potogos, another Greek, on Wednesday afternoon, did not answer to his name when the case of disorderly conduct against him was called yesterday afternoon in the police court. Both Potogos and his wife were present and stated that they had no desire to prosecute the case further. Syrascon's bond of $10.75 was forfeited. Judge Broyles dismissed the case made against the husband.

New Offices for Woodmen.—The large and rapidly increasing business of the Columbian Woodmen has made it necessary for them to seek new and better equipped offices. They have secured the third floor of the new Rhodes building, and have fitted up modern offices for the officers and employees of the order. The executive committee of this institution is being congratulated upon securing such desirable quarters where the officers will not be hampered in their work for lack of modern conveniences, which they did not have in their old quarters.

Bills for City Coal.—The finance committee of council met yesterday afternoon and decided to report to council Friday afternoon the bid for city coal made by the Kelley Fuel Company. This company's bid was lower than that of S. M. Truitt & Son for lump coal, but slightly higher for steam coal. Truitt held that his bid was lower as a whole, but the committee reached a decision that it was best for the city to close a deal with the Kelley Company. The city will pay $3.23 for lump and $2.30 for steam coal.

NEGRO IS LYNCHED BY ARKANSAS MOB

Black Youth Burglarized Residence, Then Applies the Torch.

Little Rock, Ark., July 7.—Sam Powell, a negro, charged with robbery and arson, was hanged by a mob at Huttig, Ark., late last night, according to a dispatch received here tonight.

Powell, an 18-year-old youth, it was charged, burglarized the residence of a prominent citizen of Huttig of $400 and then fired the building. He escaped, but was captured several days ago at Rochelle, La. Since his return to Huttig, it is stated, he confessed.

The rather frail prison building which housed Powell was broken into without much effort by the mob and the lynching followed. The fact that the negro had been hanged, however, was not generally known until his body was found today.

The verdict of the coroner's jury this afternoon was that Powell came to his death at the hands of unknown parties.

WHITE PEOPLE BLAMED FOR THE PRIZE FIGHT

Anniston, Ala., July 7.—In an interview here today President J. W. Stagg, of the Alabama Presbyterian College, placed on the white people the blame for the trouble resulting over the Jeffries-Johnson prize fight. He said:

"Race questions in this country will not admit of prize fights with negroes. . . . The old-time southerner was first of all a man, and there was not enough money in the world to induce him to go into a prize fight or place himself on an equality with the negro. I hope that for the good of the negro race, no white man will ever again enter the prize ring with a negro. It is to be hoped that this will end the prize fighting in the United States."

FAVORS CHANGES IN DIVORCE LAWS

Judge Ellis Expresses His Disapproval of Wholesale Divorces.

After hearing the last undefended divorce case of the term yesterday morning, Judge W. D. Ellis expressed his disapproval of the wholesale divorces which are being granted nowadays, and said that it was his intention to go before the judiciary committee of the legislature to tell them his views in the matter, suggesting remedial legislation.

Judge Ellis said that the real reason why so many divorces are sought is because it is so easy to obtain them, no corroborative testimony being required. During the present session of the "divorce court" seventy, or more, were granted; at the session just preceding this one, just as many were granted. "And it happens six times a year," said the judge.

"So many divorces are destroying the home centers," Judge Ellis said, "and the home is the strength of the city, the county, the state, and the country. To destroy the home means to destroy the larger units."

"And the evil is growing every day," the judge continued. "The slightest pretext is seized upon as just grounds for divorce, and from a little disagreement between husband and wife a serious quarrel often results, leading straight to the divorce court.

"We need more stringent laws, and I shall talk to the judiciary committee on the subject and endeavor to show them the need of curbing by legislation the divorce evil," the judge said in conclusion.

W. E. Cantrell, F. J. Jobson and T. D. Meador, Jr., have made application for a charter under the name of the Southern Mining Company. Capital stock $10,000.

The habeas corpus hearing by which Mrs. Fannie Hudgins hopes to regain possession of her 15-year-old daughter, Lizzie May Hudgins, who, Mrs. Hudgins says, is being held by S. R. Welsh, who procured papers of guardianship for the girl when he had no right to her as his ward, was taken up yesterday morning by Judge W. D. Ellis.

The case took up much time, but was not concluded. The girl said on the witness stand that she didn't want to go back to her mother, because she kept a boarding house, but admitted that her mother was always kind to her.

The case will be resumed today.

A charter was granted yesterday to the Employees' Investment Association, Frank Hammond, Jeff R. Palmer, Paul Wilkes and J. F. Nutting being the incorporators. Capital stock $4,000

Judge W. D. Ellis yesterday authorized Mrs. Leslie Thrasher, the executrix of the will of Mrs. Harriet E. Hayden, to borrow $50,000, on real estate bequeathed by the testator, for the purpose of improving property at the corner of Marietta and Cone streets. A three-story modern office building will be erected there. The dimensions of the lot are 109x114 feet, and the old Arlington hotel now stands on it.

C. J. Camp has filed suit for $5,000 damages against the Southern railroad for personal injuries received when struck by an engine of the road.

E. B. Cowan, who has frequently been before the public in connection with domestic quarrels, was made the defendant yesterday in a suit for $2,000 filed by E. L. Thomas.

Thomas says that Cowan, after inviting him to his room at the Aragon to talk over business matters, tried to blackmail him, threatened to cut off his head, and almost cut his thumb off.

The petition says that the struggle grew out of Cowan's accusing Thomas of having stolen some money.

CLIO STARNES DROWNED IN HAMPTON'S POND

Her Husband, Bookter Martin, and Lewie Weeley Held on Suspicion.

Columbia, S. C., July 7.—(Special.)—The wife of Bookter Martin, better known as Clio Starnes, was drowned late today in Hamton's pond, near Columbia. The suspicious circumstances surrounding her death led to the arrest of Bookter Martin, her husband, and Lewie Neeley, who are held pending the coroner's inquest, which will take place on Sunday afternoon.

Constable J. D. Dunnaway, who arrived at Hampton's before the body had been recovered, placed Neeley and Martin under arrest. Mabel Blackburn, the fourth member of the party, was not arrested.

The two men are said to have been drinking heavily, and still under the influence of liquor when they were arrested. A few small boys were the only eye-witnesses to the tragedy besides Neeley, Martin and the Blackburn woman. One of the boys said that one of the men had Mrs. Martin on his back out in the water. In some way she fell off and was drowned. It is alleged that the men had previously threatened drowning one of the boys.

Brownlow Very Weak.

NO DATES SET FOR ADDRESSES

All Quiet at Gubernatorial Headquarters.

Hoke Smith Will Probably Make a Campaign Argument at the Auditorium the Latter Part of July --- Many Callers at All Headquarters.

There was no heat and no excitement generated around any of the headquarters or offices of any of the candidates for governor on yesterday. The day was quiet and uneventful. Callers called and letters were written, those having talent at figures figured on the outcome, and political prognosticators made up their prognostications. There it ended.

No dates have been made as yet for any political speeches in Atlanta by any one of the three leading candidates for governor. Mr. Smith will undoubtedly make a campaign argument at the Auditorium-Armory in Atlanta the latter part of July. It will possibly be his first political address in the present campaign.

Has Made No Engagements.

Judge Hart said he had made no engagements for any speeches. He was in conference with Hon Hewlett Hall Thursday in connection with his retirement from office on July 15, to which office Mr. Hall will succeed.

The report that J. R. Smith, the prominent Atlanta merchant, will again manage the details of the Brown campaign for reelection will not down.

A letter from G. G. Riley, secretary and treasurer of the Farmers' Oil and Fertilizer Company, of Americus, is said by the Brown people to indicate the way things are going in southwest Georgia.

He says the people in his section prefer Brown, cool winds and 15-cent cotton, to Smith, hot winds and 9-cent cotton, and that they like Brown because he has not attempted to be the whole performance.

Hon. William Rutland, of Lee, was in Atlanta Thursday and predicted that Brown would increase his lead over Smith in Lee this year.

J. P. Trotty, of 537 Highland avenue, Atlanta, said a poll taken at Lilburn, in Gwinnett county, showed 18 for Brown and 2 for Smith.

L. J. Henry, of Hoschton, Hall county, said the Hoke Smith men in Hall regretted that Mr. Smith had entered the race; that Brown would carry Hall as he did two years ago.

Strong for Hoke Smith.

At the Hoke Smith headquarters were a number of callers during the day who registered and made their predictions on the result.

N. A. Glass, former sheriff of Henry county, said Mr. Smith would increase his majority of 314 this year.

J. W. Smith, of 130 Windsor street, Atlanta, said he had traveled all over the northern and middle part of the state, and found a number of changes from Brown to Smith in all sections.

T. L. Wimberly, of Emanuel county, said that, while Brown carried the county last time, he thought it would go for Smith this year, and he hoped to live long enough to cast another vote for the former governor.

George W. Wells, of Watkinsville, Oconee county, said Smith and Brown tied in the county in the last race, but the Smith people were confident they would carry it this time.

S. C. Townsend, of St. Mary's, Camden county, said that, while the county had always been against Smith, his followers were more hopeful this time than ever.

Among the letters containing encouraging news received at Hoke Smith headquarters were those from the following supporters: Dr. T. H. Nelson, of Alama, and D. V. Purvis, of Ocilla.

Judge Hart did not give out any expressions on his prospects which have reached him.

She was 69 years of age, and had been suffering for nearly a week from injuries received from a fall some days ago, when her hip was fractured. Her injury soon developed into the illness which ended in her death.

Mrs. Van Epps was well known, and is survived by many relatives and friends. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. W. Adair Williams, of Arlington, Texas, and Mrs. E. A. Minor, of Atlanta; a son, J. C. Van Epps; a stepdaughter, Mrs. George Wilcox, of Augusta, and six sisters, Mrs. C. S. Newton, of Madison; Mrs. W. F. Stokes, of Atlanta; Mrs. L. C. Fields, of Tampa, Fla.; Mrs. H. W. Ledbetter, of Burnside, Miss.; Mrs. G. D. Stewart, of Butler, and Miss Mary Cooper, of LaGrange.

The body is now at the undertaking establishment of Greenberg, Bond & Bloomfield, but will be taken to the family residence, in East Atlanta, this morning.

The funeral services will be conducted from the Central Presbyterian church at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Rev. Dr. Ogden officiating. The interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

BROWN CLUB ORGANIZED.

C. M. Sweat Heads the Ware County Organization.

Waycross, Ga., July 7.—(Special.)—The Ware County Joe Brown Club was organized here tonight. A large number of Governor Brown's friends were present, and about one hundred signed the list of the club.

The organization was perfected by the election of C. M. Sweat as president and Captain P. B. Ballard as vice president, with V. L. Stanton as secretary. The various districts of the county will be represented in the executive committee, which will be appointed by President Sweat.

FALSE FRIEND AND HYPOCRITE

Says Tom Watson in Writing of Hardwick.

Fierce Denunciation of Congressman Hardwick in Latest Addition to Newspaper Controversy Between Two Prominent Men.

Thomson, Ga., July 7.—(Special.)—Hon. Thomas E. Watson has replied to the recent card of H. McCorkle, of this place, and in it he calls on McCorkle to secure certain affidavits, in which event he promises to give $1,000 to the Thomson Methodist church.

Mr. Watson points out that Mr. McCorkle was in error in stating that suit on the notes over which the controversy arose was before Judge Stovall, twenty years ago, pointing out that the action was taken before Judge Harrison only ten years ago.

"You will remember his positive statement that he did not pay the heirs until after this suit was thrown out of court. If he can produce an affivadit to that effect from the four heirs of the Williams estate, I pledge my word of honor to donate $1,000 to the Thomson Methodist church."

Denying McCorkle's claim that he was the cause of the loss of his home, Mr. Watson states that the real reason was that he deeded the house and lot away to get $800 to put into a mercantile venture.

Hardwick's Venomous Abuse.

Concluding, Mr. Watson says:

"In the meanwhile, the venomous abuse with which little Tom Billy Hardwick continues to pursue me, both in public and private—abuse which has come in an almost unbroken stream of virulence and falsehood, ever since his unexpected and unprovoked attack on me in 1908—may make it absolutely necessary for me, in self-defense, to take a more active part in the congressional race than I had intended.

"The lies that he tells on me in every one of his published articles and his speeches are becoming unendurable. Through one of his local supporters in Thomson he sent out four copies of Mr. McCorkle's first attack on me, and it was simultaneously published in the four papers which publish Mr. Hardwick's coarse abuse and vile slanders. He was one of the rascals who cheated me out of my seat in congress, and, not satisfied with having helped to wreck my public career, he seeks to destroy my private character.

"Miserable little hypocrite and ingrate! who came to me whining for help in his first congressional race, and who has reaped, without labor, for eight years, where I had sown for seven, in trail and tears, he is using every art and wile of an exposed fraud and trickster to make my old district believe that I am one of the basest of men!

"He, who wouldn't even condescend to answer the petition sent to him by the confederate veterans of McDuffie county, deliberately and viciously insinuated that I swindled an old confederate soldier, and caused his ruin!

Reiterates Charges.

"False friend! Do-nothing congressman! Promising young man who cultivated my friendship and won my confidence, only to betray it!

"Dishonest sport, who pockets winnings, but repudiates losses, and whose face was virtually slapped by Sam Edmonson, of Macon. Drunkard, who has to be supported between two friends when changing cars on his way home from Washington city!

"Confirmed toper and drug fiend, who set himself and the Hotel Lanier on fire and caused such damage that an insurance company had to come across and pay up for it!

"A man so destitute of honor that he was willing to throw over the Pilchers, of Warren county, and support McGregor for postmaster if Mac could silence my opposition!

"A democrat—a southern democrat—who could prejudice the mind of President Roosevelt against a brother democrat by showing to the republican president a published letter in which McGregor referred to himself as an unterrified, rock-ribbed rebel democrat!

"This is the man who couldn't let my name alone in the congressional fight, but who had to jump on me in his very first speech! This is the man, who, when drunk, at the Capital City Club in Atlanta, made his 'maudlin boasts, 'I control Watson!' This is the man who couldn't allow his friend and benefactor the privilege of declining to support Hoke Smith a second time, when he and Smith were fighting for the early snap primary, which takes the farmers at a disadvantage; and were making war upon the county unit plan, which is the sheet anchor of the small counties and the best guarantee of pure politics in Georgia!

"This is the men who had his law partner introduce a resolution which revolutionizes the democratic practice of thirty years! This is the man who secretly contrives the scheme to send himself back to congress by a minority vote! This is the man who insolently declares that if the nominating convention is deadlocked, it shall not have the privilege of nominating Joe Reynolds, or Bill Fleming, or Major Black, or Judge Lamar, or Roger Gamble, or Horace Holden, or Major McGregor, or Bob Lewis, or Jim Hogan. He may deceive the people, and give himself a minority reelection, but I won't believe it before it happens.

"THOMAS E. WATSON."

"P. S.—The difference between the beautiful note which Mr. McCorkle wrote thanking me for the bottle of wine and that which he sent some time afterwards when, for the first time he charged me with being responsible for his ruin, and the further fact that he kept a copy of his own letter—a most unusual thing with a man like him—proves that somebody had been at work on him and meant to make use of him. It was a local supporter of Hardwick, acting under Hardwick's suggestion. T. E. W."

Oil Company Fined $75,000.

Enid, Okla., July 7.—The signing of a stipulation by which the Waters-Pierce Oil Company is to pay a fine of $75,000, and be restrained from entering into any contracts in restraint of trade, resulted in the dismissal today of the quo warranto suit brought by Attorney General West against the company.

Why Divide Pulaski? New Counties Best; Old Counties Pleased

When it seemed imperative that a new county be formed from Pulaski, and that a majority of the citizens favored such a step as a logical one for future development, I asked and received the following statements of the effect of new counties:

Jenkins County: Tax rate 1909, $16.50 per thousand. Unpaid building bonds, $49,000. "Hope you will get the new county."

Grady County: Tax rate 1909, $12.50. Courthouse and jail paid for. No bonds. "Old county satisfied. Taxes not raised."

Tift County: Tax rate 1909, $8.00 for county; 2½ mills for schools.

Ben Hill County: Tax rate for 1909, $13.00. $75,000 bonds for roads, jail, courthouse.

Jeff Davis County: Tax rate for 1909, $11.50 (highest since foundation, on account of several murder cases). Bonds, $30,000.

Toombs County: Tax rate 1909, $12.00. Courthouse paid for. Out of debt. $8,000 in treasury.

Turner County: Tax rate 1909, $16.00; 1910, $12.00. "Hope you will get one, as you have fine territory for one."

Crisp: "Those who were strongest in their opposition are now perfectly willing to admit the wisdom of the change."

"A farmer can attend court and be back home in time to see to his farm in the afternoon in either county."

"The creation of a new county out of the territory you propose to embrace, would mean more for your town and community than any move you could possibly engage in."

Dooly: "The county seat is more accessible, the roads are being worked out and put in splendid condition, and property being nearer the county seat, has increased in value."

"There is always less rivalry in two towns if they are in different counties."

Wilkes: "Wilkes county is in better condition since territory was taken. We have better roads, taxes more equalized, are more prosperous, flourishing condition financially."

Decatur: (Bainbridge) "Conditions in county and city much better since division."

Thomas: (Thomasville) "Conditions same as before the division. Not a town in the county has been affected People of Thomas have been reconciled and are pleased with the division."

Judged by the above facts, it is hardly necessary to ask, "Are you with me for a new county?" The majority of the citizens of Pulaski county are in favor of division, and as one of that majority, I ask your support.

Yours for Greater Georgia,

J. H. Mullis, Jr.

NEGROES ATTACK MANAGER YOUNG

Naval Stores Operator Has Narrow Escape.

His Home at Faceville, Ga., Surrounded and Fired Upon by Three Blacks --- Desperadoes Escape.

Bainbridge, Ga., July 7.—Sheriff Emanuel and a posse of deputies are searching for three negroes who before daybreak this morning threatened to burn the home of J. Young, manager of a naval stores company at Faceville, this county, and kill him.

They surrounded his house, woke him up and cursed him. They fired a number of shots, but hurt no one in the house.

Earlier in the night a negro, Frank Jenkins, tried to shoot Mr. Young, who was too quick and shot the negro, merely wounding him.

After the attack on Mr. Young's house, a posse of white men gathered and surrounded a house in which the three negroes were barricaded.

The negroes charged through a rear door and escaped in a fusillade. Then Sheriff Emanuel and his deputies arrived.

They made a thorough search of the negro section, but found no trace of the rioters. The search is still going on, but everything at Faceville late this afternoon was quiet.

A Mother's Letter.

Dear Mother:—

You who have a baby or little child, I want to give you a safe, sure home remedy for the little aches and pains of little stomachs; one that may be safely given to the most delicate infant. To a half cup of water add one-fourth cup of granulated sugar; heat until sugar is dissolved; let stand until cool; then add one ounce Medofior, which your druggist will tell you makes about three times as much syrup as is contained in the small, flat bottles of advertised remedies. The next time the little one worries or frets or cries, is sleepless or constipated, give a teaspoonful of this mixture. You will find it almost instant relief, and while it acts quickly and thoroughly, there is no danger of the bad after-effects that follow dangerous patent medicines, many of which would be injurious even to grown-ups.

After all, the simple home remedies are safest and best for children. I have found it true, and so will you. Try it for baby's sake, and for your own.

RAIN UNEXPECTED, BUT PURELY LOCAL

Thunderstorm, Says the Weather Man, Is Liable to Come Any Time.

Now, you who decided to venture out yesterday without an umbrella and got sprinkled, don't jump on either the weather man or the Gopher, for neither was to blame.

In the first place, a weather prophecy is not always meant to cover any purely local propositions, and a thunder storm is a purely local affair. For instance, it rained very hard in Atlanta Thursday, and yet, within a mile or two of the city it did not rain a drop.

Therefore, those who by chance were in the thunder storm belt thought the weather man had made a mistake, while those outside the thunder zone, thought the weather man was once more very wise.

In saying that the rain was about over, the weather man meant that the local conditions did not show any indications of a general rain. No mortal can predict for a certainty about a thunder storm.

For this season of the year the weather is not too warm. It has been a trifle over-wet, but the weather man believes this will soon change, barring local thunder storms.

Local showers is the prediction for today.

"And speaking of Jupiter Pluvius," said the Gopher, "if he doesn't stop his tricks, he's going to break the hearts of some of these Atlanta girls that get a perfectly good dress ruined every time they go down on Whitehall street these days—or else turn them into rapid-change artists.

"If you notice any of your friends improve wonderfully in the fluency with which they express themselves, just put it down to the practice they had recently while waiting in the parlor on one of these quick-change stunts.

"In fact, they do tell me that one of my friends 'of the profession' went out to take his lady to the show, waited while she made a quick-change to some storm togs—and then it didn't rain after all. He says she was so mad about not being able to wear that new hat that she couldn't half enjoy the show, but—whisper it gently—he says he didn't give a rap, for he wouldn't have been able to see her, if she had worn it.

SHE MADE A QUICK CHANGE AND THEN THE RAIN STOPPED.

L. LEFKOWITZ DIES AT THE CITY PRISON

L. Lefkowitz, aged 36 years, a prisoner in the Fulton county tower on a charge of vagrancy, died in the prison hospital at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, of typhoid fever. He is supposed to be a native of either Baltimore or New York, but Undertakers Greenberg, Bond & Bloomfield have been unable to locate his people.

Lefkowitz came to Atlanta several months ago. He got employment at the Atlanta Paper company and about three weeks ago was taken ill and sent to the Grady hospital. With signs of recovery, the doctors stated that Lefkowitz acted in such a way as to indicate that he was demented. He was taken in charge by the police and bound over on the vagrancy charge in order that he might be held while steps were being made to send him to Milledgeville. He contracted typhoid fever while being held a prisoner.

BARNESVILLE SHIPS 57 CARS OF CARMENS

This Does Not Include Express Shipments and Amount Canned.

Barnesville, Ga., July 7.—(Special.) The harvest of the Carmen peaches closed here Wednesday, and the yield was really larger than was expected, much larger than ever before. Until within recent years no early peaches were grown here for the markets, but they are now quite an important part of the fruit business.

This year T. S. Yates shipped 20 cars of Carmen, S. M. Marshburn 10, A. O. & T. S. Murphey, Wooten & Murphy and R. E. Lee Hawkins, who loaded together, 13; Stafford & Howard 5, G. W. Butler & Sons 7 and Fleming, Rumble & Haygood 2, making a total of 57 cars, which does not include 245 shipments by express, which amounts to 3 cars more.

Counting what the local canneries have used, the yield will amount to at least 75 cars. The Elbertas will begin ripening in a few days, and it is expected that this variety will far exceed that of the Carman.

DAN SULLY DECLARED IN CONTEMPT OF COURT

The Former "Cotton King" Must Pay Fine of $3,800.

White Plains, N. Y., July 7.—Daniel Sully, long known as the "cotton king," was declared in contempt of court today by Justice Mills, of the state supreme court, and ordered to pay a fine of $3,800 and $10 costs.

The case grew out of Sully's failure several years ago, when William Marmon Black, a judgment creditor, obtained a court order restraining Sully from paying out any money until the suit of Black had been settled. Black contended that Sully had committed contempt in paying $4,600 to his (Sully's) wife after the order had been issued. Sully said the payment represent his salary of $400 a month for a little less than a year.

FAIR SKIES BRING SMILES TO FARMERS

Dougherty County Crops, It Is Feared, Are Badly Hurt by Rains.

Albany, Ga., July 7.—(Special.)—Two days of fair skies have brought joy to the hearts of farmers in this section of the state, but the fear that the rains have not held up for any considerable length of time still proves a nightmare. Thus far the damage wrought is serious and widespread, and even under ideal conditions from this time forward through the crop year, results on the farms are such to prove sadly disappointing.

The chief sufferers from the torrential rains of June and the first part of July have been the cotton and cantaloupe crops. The latter has been especially hard hit, and the average grower in south Georgia now has as his fondest hope the ability to come out, even on the season's venture. Always an uncertain crop, the cantaloupe fields this season have had three or four times as much rain as they needed, and in consequence the fruit has proved of a very inferior quality. The flavor of which the south Georgia grower is proud was wanting, and besides, the melons have not shipped well. Many growers will lose money, and very few, if any, will be able to show a profit. The combination of a short and inferior crop commanding lower prices than usual has worked disastrously. Watermelons have fared a little better than cantaloupes, but the season for this fruit has also been generally unsatisfactory.

The cotton fields are declared to be in a worse condition in this part of the state than in many years. It is well known that cotton requires comparatively little moisture, and flourishes in drought where it would suffer with an abundance of moisture. Some think like 11½ inches of rain fell in southwestern Georgia between the 6th of June and the 5th of July. The result is that the cotton plants are of rank growth, and leaves being large and the stems thick and watery. The fruit is scattered, and even should July bring an abundance of sunshine, the plants cannot be expected to recuperate to any very considerable extent. There was never more grass in the fields than now, and the farmers do not hope to be able to overtake it, with the start it has gained.

The one bright spot in the agricultural outlook is gained in the corn fields, which promise to yield a bumper crop. There has been more rain than ever corn required, but it has flourished, in spite of that. The production should prove the greatest in the history of this part of the state.

EDWARDS ADDRESSES EMANUEL VOTERS

Congressional Candidate in the First District Greeted by Large Crowd.

Swainsboro, Ga., July 7.—(Special.)—Upon invitation of the Edwards Club, of this county, Congressman Charles G. Edwards spoke here. A large crowd of citizens assembled.

Before the appointed hour for the speech the large and commodious courtroom was filled to its utmost.

He paid his respects to the statements which appeared about him in The Jeffersonian. These he denounced as without the least foundation and he defied any one to prove them to be true. He referred to the good name he bore in Tattnall county, where he began life on a poor farm, and in Savannah, where for eight or ten years he had lived. He said that he had nothing to say of Mr. Watson, further than that he felt that Wason had done him a great wrong in defaming his character, which not only hurt him, but his family.

WOMEN TEACHERS OUTWIT THE MEN

And Elect Mrs. Young Head of Association.

Nominating Committee Put Up Z. Z. Snyder, but the Women Turned Down Snyder and Elected Mrs. Young — Next Convention for San Francisco.

Boston, July 7.—Women teachers showed their knowledge of politics today by pushing Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of the public schools of Chicago, through to a triumphant election as president of the National Education Association.

Her opponent, Zacharias Zenophone Snyder, president of the state normal school of Colorado, who was the selection of the nominating committee representing all the states, was defeated by a vote of 617 to 376 in the general convention.

It took a clear parliamentary head to cut the knot which the nominating committee had about Dr. Snyder, but the women were equal to the task, and as Mrs. Flagg had resigned as a candidate for second vice president on the ticket presented to the convention, her friends put her up as a direct candidate against Dr. Snyder.

Other Names Accepted.

When Mrs. Young was declared the winner, the convention immediately accepted the other names presented by the committee, as follows:

Treasurer, P. H. Springer, Michigan; vice presidents, James Y. Joyner, Raleigh, N. C.; Miss Julia Richman, New York; F. L. Cook, Spearfish, S. D.; George A. McFarland, Valley City, N. D.; Thomas O. Miller, Shepardstown, W. Va.; Charles S. Foss, Reading, Pa.; Homer F. Sweerley, Cedar Falls, Iowa; E. O. Hayes, Alva, Okla.; E. T. Fairfield, Topeka Kas.; Samuel Avery, Lincoln, Neb.; C. A. Dunlway, Bozeman, Montana. A director from each state also was chosen.

Particular attention was paid to the education of the child in the addresses at today's meetings. During the afternoon state teachers' associations and those interested in school gardens and religious training also had sessions.

At the general session this evening education along broad lines was discussed. The convention will close tomorrow night.

No Public Money for Sectarian Schools.

The resolutions adopted at the general business meeting were in part as follows:

"The National Education Association reaffirms its unalterable opposition to any division of the public school funds among private or sectarian schools and believes that appropriations from the federal and state treasuries in support of private educational institutions is in direct contravention of the fundamental principles upon which our system of American public school education has been founded and has prospered."

The directors decided unanimously to hold the next convention in San Francisco in 1911. The claims of San Francisco were eloquently presented by Alfred Roncovieri, superintendent of schools of that city.

CHURCH WAS SMEARED BY SIX YOUNGSTERS

They Daubed Newly Frescoed Walls and Used Piano Cover to Make Wigwam.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 7.—Six little boys and a girl, the average age of all of whom does not exceed nine years, climbed in a cellar window of the Denny M. P. church and finding a supply of painters' tools and material, proceeded to redecorate the church and all it contained. The newly frescoed walls were smeared with color regardless of harmony, and the organ and the piano, including the key boards, were lavishly treated while the furniture, chairs and benches were similarly given a fresh coat of paint.

One of the youngsters apparently thinking the piano cover would make a good substitute for an Indian wigwam, spread it on the floor and decorated in hierogiyphics of his own until it met with his idea of wild west.

The Rev. C. A. Clark caused the arrest of the youngsters, who were held for juvenile court. The damage to church property is placed at $300.

SHOOTS HIS WIFE, HIS SON AND SELF

Separation of Couple Results in Tragedy---Two Dead; Another Will Die.

New Orleans, July 7.—Charles Desforges, a real estate agent, shot and killed his wife, probably fatally wounded his 17-year-old son and then blew his own brains out, here tonight.

Desforges and his wife were separated several months ago, and each recently brought suit for divorce. Tonight the man went to the house in Canal street where Mrs. Desforges and the son were living, and at once began a revolver fire upon the two, who were sitting on the gallery. After they had fallen, Desforges turned his weapon upon himself. Both he and his wife died immediately. At the hospital to which young Desforges was taken, it was said that he was probably mortally shot.

Borden, Ind., July 7.—Asleep in bed yesterday morning in a house on J. W. Lovell's farm near here, 7-year-old Harrison Money was attacked by a huge copperhead snake. The reptile thrust its fangs several times into the feet of the child, inflicting wounds, which it is feared will result in the boy's death.

PAT FLAHERTY IN GRAND FORM

Fleet Southpaw Held Gulls Safe All the Way.

Final Score 3 to 1---Until Final Round Not a Gull Had Reached Second---Jordan the Fielding Star --- Barr, Murphy and Moran Made Star Catches.

Some one evidently answered the advertisement appearing in Thursday's Constitution, for on yesterday four pair of batting lamps were returned, and these four developed enough timely swats to win the first game of the series from the Gulls by the score of 3 to 1.

Patrick Flaherty was in the box for the Crackers, and Pat was in great form. For five innings not a hit had been made off of his delivery. For three innings more not a Gull was able to reach first base, and it was only in the final round that they were able to touch Pat up at all, and this was only momentarily, and two mighty fine plays stopped the rally.

Johnny Fisher, formerly with Louisville, in the American Association, worked the second game as a Gull, and he, too, pitched nice ball, but bunched hits in two rounds brought about his downfall, the four pair of batting lamps above mentioned being in working order on these occasions.

Jordan Stars.

Otto Jordan was the bright particular star of the game. Otto was everywhere apparently, putting up one of the greatest fielding games that a second baseman has pulled off in many a day. In the first he fell to his knees in the mud on Watson's hit, but got his man. In the fourth he made two great stops, one from Murphy's bat and the other from Watson's, the last being a one-hander.

In the eighth he stopped a hard-hit ball right over second base from Barr's bat, but could not throw his man out. However, it was great work. He capped off his fine work by singling in the sixth, scoring Bayless with the first run of the game.

Some other fine catches were made. Scotty Walker made a great one-handed stop of a line drive from Swacina's bat in the fifth. Moran made a circus catch that ended the game. Hyder Barr did the same stunt in the fifth, robbing DeHaven of a hit, while Murphy plucked one out of the air in center field from Sid Smith's bat in the fourth, which sure looked like a bingle the minute it left the bat. Two double plays, one on each side, also enlivened the game.

Both Twirlers Good.

For five rounds both pitchers were going like a house afire, Atlanta getting one hit by Walker and the Gulls one. In the sixth, after two were out, Bayless hit one to center that Murphy could not quite get to, and when he stumbled and fell Bayless sprinted to second, a mighty nifty piece of base running. Otto possessed the necessary pinch hit, and Bayless tallied.

Walker led off with a hit in the eighth. Matthews sacrificed him to second, and then Pat Flaherty picked out a peach and sailed it to right. Scotty scoring. Pat went to second on the throw and when Bayless singled Pat tallied.

Shannon opened up the ninth with a single. Fisher got a life on Walker's error. Murphy singled, filling the sacks, and when Berger singled Shannon scored. Watson hit a fly back of first, which Otto scooped in and doubled Murphy at second. Moran then saved the day by scooping up Swacina's hit to left.

The second game of the series will be played today, which is also Ladies' day. Harold Johns will work for the Crackers, with Moxie Manuel on the mound for the Gulls. This also should be some game.

Birds Cop Two.

Memphis, Tenn., July 7.—Indifferent ball playing lost two games for Memphis today. In the first game the local team made a good start, but before the first three innings had passed their playing became listless, and the 6-to-4 victory for New Orleans was easy. In the second contest, New Orleans started off with a rush, scoring nine runs in two innings, while none of the local players could cross the plate. Score:

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 7.—Birmingham defeated Chattanooga today in a hot pitchers' battle between Siever and Wagner, in which honors were even, poor support losing the game for the former. Birmingham's two runs were made on a short, wild pitch, on which Meek allowed one man to score and another to go from first to third. The next run scored when Perry slipped down after stopping a hard grounder.

Americus Wins.

Americus, Ga., July 7.—(Special.)—Americus applied the trimming process to the Ocilla aggregation this afternoon in an opening game of the series, shutting out the visitors by the score of 4 to 0. The Ocillanians play excellent ball, but are simply outclassed. Robinson pitched the game for Americus and Rogers was Ocilla's slabman.

SOUTHERN TENNIS CHAMP. WILL BE DECIDED TODAY

These are the Norfolk tennis cracks who will play in the finals. They are H. G. Whitehead and James H. Winston. As a team they play Grant and Thornton in the semi-finals, and Whitehead plays Doyle for the championship.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE.

Friday's play will start at 10 o'clock with the semi-finals in the men's doubles, Grant and Thornton standing Whitehead and Winston, and Hall and Cragin standing the Doyle brothers. At the same time, in the ladies' singles, Mrs. Mylam will play Mrs. Sullivan and Mrs. Hall will play Miss Ridley.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the finals in the ladies' singles will be played off, and the mixed double match between Mrs. Hall and C. Y. Smith and Miss Terrell and W. B. Craig. At 3 o'clock the final championship round of the men's singles will be played off between C. B. Doyle and J. H. Winston. At the same time the final round of the consolation singles will be played.

The play in the southern tennis championships, which have been in progress on the East Lake courts of the Atlanta Athletic club during the week, progressed so far Thursday as to reach the finals.

During the day the several rounds in the consolation singles were completed, and but one more match in the semi-finals remains to be completed, the winner of this match, which is between S. W. Williams, of Atlanta, and G. A. Middlebrooks, of Atlanta, playing Frank Van Gilder, of Knoxville, in the finals.

Finals in Singles Reached.

In the championship singles, the finals were reached, the semi-final matches during the afternoon being completed. C. B. Doyle, of Washington, D. C., plays James H. Winston, of Norfolk, Va. The winner of this match will be the southern champion, as Theodore Roosevelt Pell, of New York, the present title holder, will not come down to play. This match will be played at 3:30 Friday afternoon.

The third round in the men's doubles was completed Thursday morning. The semi-finals in this event will be played this morning. This will bring forth some interesting matches. Grant and Thornton, of Atlanta, will meet Winston and Whitehead, of Norfolk. Both these teams were former southern doubles champions, and this will lend additional excitement to the match. Hall and Cragin, of New York, will meet the Doyle brothers, of Washington, another interesting match.

During the afternoon the ladies' singles and the mixed doubles were started. Play will continue on both of these today.

The prettiest match of the entire day was between C. B. Doyle and H. G. Whitehead. Doyle won the first set comparatively easy, but Whitehead turned the tables, and, after a hard fight, won the second set. However, Doyle got back in his stride again, and won the final set.

HE GETS HOME WITH THE BACON

Slugger Johnson Warmly Welcomed by Blacks.

Side of Bacon Is Displayed in Honor of Prize-Fighter--Johnson Weeps as He Meets His Mammy, and She Tells Him "Fine Chicken Is Cooking."

Chicago, July 7.—Jack Johnson, champion prize fighter, is once more at home with his mammy and his automobile.

Thousands of people lined miles of sidewalks with solid ranks to catch a glimpse of the man no one has been found who could whip.

It was so much after his own heart—this home-coming—that the champion all tentative plans for the future were off.

He Laughs at Langford.

"Sam Langford?" he asked. "You make me laugh. I am not running around now looking for fights. Let Langford put up his $20,000 first, then he can talk. Just now I am going to rest. I am going to New York Sunday afternoon to begin a thirty weeks' vaudeville tour—at least, I have that many at my disposal. If it looks like a good thing I may accept offers to go to Europe.

"Quit, well, I'll tell you, sonny. I never told anyone I would quit, but it looks as though I'd have to do it, doesn't it?"

Five thousand members of his race and a sprinkling of white persons were at the railway station when Johnson arrived at 2 p. m.

Police Swept Away.

Police were swept away like chaff when the immense fighter, looming above the crowd, fought his way through handclasps and good-natured pats on the back to a waiting automobile.

A line of garishly decorated automobiles containing newspaper workers (amply cared for at Johnson's personal request), followed his new 100-miles-an-hour racing car on his mad dash home, where his family waited in the midst of another crowd of thousands for his home-coming.

Flags waved, an ornately attired drum major of a colored regiment of state militia swayed to the rythm of "America" and "Mister Johnson, Turn Me Loose" and other similarly "patriotic" airs and in the midst of a mighty roar of "Oh, you, Jack Johnson" the champion alighted at his own lintel.

He pushed his way into the house amid deafening roars and with real tears streaming down his face, embraced his mother.

Chicken Cooking for Johnson.

Behind him a compatriot struggled through the crown bearing aloft a smoked bacon side, symbolic of Johnson's own message home:

"I'm coming home with the bacon."

"You doan need any bacon chile," cries the aged mother.

"Ah, want to tell you I'se got a mighty fine chicken cookin' out hear in the kitchen and you knows how you likes watahmelion? We all have got some dandies Jack."

The champion appeared on the balcony of his home, pausing suddenly as he caught a camera pointed his way, lest the picture be spoiled. He was about to speak when he glanced at his racing car, surrounded by a street full of dark skinned "home folks." He did not talk. A few minutes later he struggled through the crowd to his machine.

Held Up for Speeding.

His new automobile can "go some" too. It went 71 miles an hour for a while till it was slowed down by a park policeman.

"Here goes the profits" laughed Jack, but the policeman whispered:

"Don't tell any one, but I won $20 on you."

"Good," answered Johnson, and later he was revealed at a certain corner where one may acquire liquid refreshment after a dusty ride.

His future plans, he says, can be outlined only generally and in this way:

"Sleep some; eat a pile of good eatables and drive my racer."

Troubles of Picture Men.

"Did you hear about the picture men's troubles?" Johnson was asked.

"Yes," he answered, "but it doesn't bother me. They all told me I was a fool to sell for $50,000, but they thought I couldn't whip Mr. Jeffries, too."

After illustrating the manner in which he "turned the trick" with a reporter representing Jeffries (much to the discomfiture of the reporter), he said:

"The fight's over; let's forget it a while. I haven't had a chance to drive a car in two weeks, and, golly! I want to get at that there machine again."

As to the fight, Johnson has adopted a new answer to inquiries. It is a nod, a knowing wink, a smile of deprecation and gold teeth. As to his future he says:

"I certainly would like to stay right here, and I don't know but what I will, unless they force me out."

UMPIRE HUNT WHIPS SIX BASEBALL PLAYERS

Orth Collins and Jack Law Were Two of the Victims.

Jackson, Miss., July 7.—Umpire Hunt last night whipped six of the members of the Greenwood (Cotton States League) baseball team. Hunt was fired a few days ago and blamed Orth Collins and Jack Law for his losing out. Last night meeting Collins, something was said about the matter, and Collins accused Hunt of umpiring and betting on games at the same time, and was promptly knocked down.

A few minutes afterwards Hunt walked into the Lemon hotel, where the Greenwood team was stopping, and spoke to Jack Law, who replied with a lick in the face. This brought on a fight between Hunt and six of the players, in which Hunt came out victorious.

"UNCLE JOE" TO WAR ON THE INSURGENTS

He Will Make a Raid Into Their Territory During the Campaign.

Washington, July 7.—Invigorated and bronzed by his excursion to Fisherman's Island in Chesapeake Bay, Speaker Joseph G. Cannon is in Washington finishing up odds and ends prior to his departure for Danville.

Mr. Cannon will remain only a few days in Danville this time, for he contemplates a raid into the heart of the insurgent territory. It is his hope to go to Winfield, Kan., and there speak in behalf of the renomination of Representative Philip Campbell, one of the stand-pat congressmen.

"Uncle Joe" will then return to his district, take an automobile and make a house-to-house canvass. He insists that there is not any danger that he will not be renominated and reelected.

The speaker was asked today if he would be a candidate again for the speakership. His eyes twinkled as he recalled the famous recipe for rabbit potpie—first catch your rabbit. In other words, the house must be republican.

Savannah, Ga., July 7.—With Nolley in the box, Savannah outplayed Columbia here today and won its sixth consecutive victory over that team by 5 to 1. At no time did the losers have a look-in. Augusta, Ga., July 7.—Augusta lost the last game of the series to Macon today, 3 to 2. Lynch opened poorly, walking two men in the first inning, but tightened up wonderfully toward the end of the game, and pitched great ball. Except at short, both infields worked in at least semi-sensational style. Two features marked the game, that of a sensational running catch of what would have been a three-base hit by Wagnon from Wahl's bat, and Norcum stealing home in the first inning.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

COTTON STRONGER ON BULL SUPPORT

Market Closed Firm at Net Advance of Eight to Thirteen Points.

New York, July 7.—Following yesterday's reaction the cotton market showed renewed strength during today's trading on covering by shorts and more aggressive bull support with the close firm at a net gain of 8@13 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 4 points on July, which was influenced by covering, but generally unchanged to 6 points lower, under a renewal of yesterday's selling movement which was encouraged by rather a better weather map and continued unfavorable trade advices. Liverpool made a fairly steady showing, however; many bullish private crop advices came in from the south and when it was seen that the bull leaders and shorts were willing to buy all the near months offered, the market developed a much steadier tone and at times showed traces of an urgent demand for the old crop positions. After selling up to a net advance of about 10@14 points, the market reacted 6 or 7 points, under realizing, while trading, which had been quite active earlier, became comparatively quiet. But no real weakness developed and later in the day the market firmed up again, on a renewal of covering and bull support with last prices within a point or two of the best. A message received from San Antonio offered 55 bales of new cotton for July shipment, but while suggesting a fairly early new crop movement this made no apparent impression on sentiment, and old crop shorts seemed to be nervous, owing to private cables reporting that there would be no further shipment from there to New York for delivery on contract and the fact that no large amount of cotton appears to be heading in this direction from the south.

Southern spot markets officially reported early were unchanged to ¼c higher. Weather reports showed rather less rain in the eastern belt, but consideable precipitation in sections of the central belt, which were sending in unfavorable crop reports and there was no general rain in Texas.

Receipts at the ports today 6,077 bales, against 6,576 last week and 846 last year. For the week 20,000 bales, against 23,311 last week and 18,897 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 3351 bales, against 349 last year.

Cotton spot closed quiet; middling uplands 1,835; middling gulf 1,560; sales, 1,586 bales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, July 7.—Cotton spot, quiet, unchanged; sales on the spot, 32 bales; to arrive, none; low ordinary, 11½, nominal; ordinary, 12 5-16, nominal; good ordinary, 13⅝; strict good ordinary, 14⅛; low middling, 14 7-16; strict low middling, 14 11-16; middling, 15 5-16; strict good middling, 15; middling fair, 15⅝; middling fair to fair, 16c; fair, 16⅝; receipts, 3,351; stock, 61,000.

Cotton futures opened steady, unchanged to 3 points down. Cables were quite up to expectations and shorts were inclined to put out new lines. In the early trading, July was put 7 points under yesterday's closing, but the new crops were steadier and after losing 1 point from yesterday's last quotations they were advanced 4 points on buying, included by continued rain in the central and eastern portions of the cotton belt. At the end of the first half hour of trading, the market was inactive.

Extremely unfavorable crop accounts from Alabama and, Georgia, which claimed that crops in many sections of those two states were being killed by grass, caused by extensive rains, strengthened the new crop months and put them 8 to 10 points above yesterday's closing. Trading was very moderate all the morning and the rise came of its own accord, manipulation by the bulls being entirely absent. July did not follow the advance, but remained a point below yesterday's closing during the greater part of the morning. August advanced 11 points from the lowest, standing toward noon 8 points over yesterday's last quotations. The market at noon was dull and steady at or within a point or two of the highest.

In the afternoon session the market was extremely dull, and prices made little change. At 2 o'clock the active months were 9 to 10 points over yesterday's close, and the other active months 9 to 10 points up.

Dry Goods.

New York, July 7.—More trading in cotton goods was reported at lower prices during the day, the buyers being converters, principally. Prints and ginghams were quiet. Domestics are quoted at irregular prices. A better inquiry is noted for underwear and hosiery for spring. Miscellaneous export trade was better during the day. Raw silk is firm.

STOCK MARKET PROVED TO BE PUZZLING ONE

Feeling of Uncertainty Over the Trend of the Movement. Firmer at Close.

New York, July 7.—Today's stock market proved quite baffling to attempts at interpretation or analysis. The thinning-out of the market was a striking feature, evidenced not only in the diminished volume of the total transactions, but in the considerable range traversed by prices of usually active stocks, without encountering any order for execution, and shown in the wide variations between sales. The uncertain and halting fluctuations proved extremely puzzling to the trading element.

The news of the day offered no striking change in conditions affecting values, and it became a question how the factors existent for some time had completed their influence on the price movement. The resistance shown when prices fell away suggested the operation of supporting forces and an effective absorptive demand, which intimated the bear element from pushing short sales, but the dying down of the demand on advances proved equally discouraging to the adherents of the long side in the speculation. It was suspected that the confusion thus caused in speculative sentiment might be by design and for the purpose of concealing the conduct of the larger speculative forces in the market in a process of gathering up of resources for a fresh movement of importance. The firm closing tone, helped by the regular St. Paul dividend, did not entirely dissipate the uncertainty over the trend of the market movement.

Confirmation was had of the reports, current yesterday, of the engagement of $1,750,000 in gold for shipment to New York. Some of the foreign houses not engaged in the operation were inclined to view the movement as premature, and its significance as exaggerated. This opinion looked to see the London market oppose obstacles to the movement and had to enforce this view, the fact that the Bank of England refrained from lowering its discount rate today and the private discount rate hardened in consequence. The gold secured was believed, in fact, to be part of that secured by Berlin on Monday, upon the arrival from South Africa, and resold to New York. The week's repayments to the Bank of England reached the usual total of $34,500,000, and to public deposits also were drawn down $15,836,000. That item is left standing, nevertheless, at the sum of $107,570,000, compared with only $41,887,000 at this time last year. It is by the disbursement of these congested government deposits, in repayment of maturing treasury bills, that the resources of the London money market are expected to become shortly redundant. It is a matter of record, also, that financial comment in London has inferred a preparation on the part of the Bank of England to meet a demand for gold shipments to New York later in the year, as a motive for its aggressive policy of building up reserves through the early part of the year, in addition, of course, to the needs of the budget crisis, and the death of King Edward. For these reasons it is not believed that a profitable movement of gold to New York will encounter opposition.

Western bank examiners were reported as expressing more satisfaction with the credit position there and the progress towards correction than was indicated by yesterday's reports.

The decline in wheat, in face of continued reports of damage to spring wheat, was attributed to the excellent prospects for the winter wheat yield, and this had considerable effect on stock market sentiment.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,660,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call

London Stock Market.

London, July 7.—American securities opened steady and from ⅛ to ⅝ above parity. Later the announcement that no change had been made in the bank rate caused a partial decline and at noon the market was quieter, with prices ranging from unchanged to ⅝ higher than yesterday's New York closing. In the afternoon, New York buying advanced prices a fraction, but the gains were lost under realizing. The leaders were supported in the late trading and the market closed steady.

Consols for money 82½; do. account 82 3-16; bar silver uncertain at 25 3-16.

New York, July 7.—Today the market showed considerable strength after the late decline, the statistical position and crop news aiding the bulls, who, however, were not conspicuous buyers, though confident, as usual. The steadiness of the market is causing considerable change in view, although the tendency is to go slow, and the trading continues professional, with outsiders apathetic. Liverpool shows little vigor, and is indifferent to the crop reports. Memphis is conspicuous in complaints, and the market worked up on the news. Texas is not promising so well, and as usual some reduced estimates are made for that state. While the market was tame early in the day, the bullish news had its influence, and the west sent us buying orders.

The sales of the day were 7,600 bales, of which 1,000 were for speculation and export, and included 6,900 American. Receipts, none. Futures opened steady and closed quiet and steady.

Foreign Finances.

London, July 7.—American and continental inquiries for gold have effectually barred all prospect of an immediate reduction in the bank rate. The directors of the bank of England this morning decided to maintain the 3 per cent rate, although dealing on that basis at the present rate of exchange represents a loss. The engagement of $2,000,000 of Cape gold for Germany, reported this morning, is generally accepted as correct and the recent releasing of bonds here should enable New York to take considerable gold. There will soon be in the neighborhood of $3,750,000 available in the open market and at least a portion is expected to be purchased for New York.

Bombay, July 7.—The rate of discount of the bank of Bombay was reduced from 4 to 3 per cent today.

UNLOADING CAUSED WHEAT PRICES TO DROP

Fluctuations Took a Zigzag Course, but Market Closed at Decline for All Grain.

Chicago, July 7.—Unloading to avoid a possible surprise when the government figures on the wheat crop are announced tomorrow, dropped the price of the cereal today ⅝ to 2¼ net. Corn finished ⅛ to 1@1⅛ down; oats, 1-4 to ⅜@⅝. Latest quotations for hog products were 5 lower to 15 up.

The big sellers of wheat, most of whom were taking profits, appeared to be acting on the theory that crop reports from North Dakota, at least, could hardly become much worse. There was considerable early selling by local traders, but it was overdone. This class later covered at a loss and ultimately were forced to let go of the property at another sacrifice, fluctuations taking such a paradoxical course, two well defined advances being each followed by equally sharp declines. A liberal quantity of new wheat from Oklahoma and Illinois was bought today to come to Chicago, the first half of July. Indications were that threshing would be genuine in the central part of this state in ten days and that the movement to Chicago would then be liberal. A current estimate was that Kansas, Texas and Oklahoma, taken together, would produce as much wheat as last year, notwithstanding abandoned acreage. September ranged from $1.01@$1.03¼, closing easy at $1.01¼ to $1.01⅜.

Fine weather for rapid growth made prices weak in the corn pit. High and low points for the September option were respectively 61¾ and 60⅝ with the close at 60⅝@60¾, a net decline of 1@1⅛. The cash market was firm. No. 2 ellow closed 62¾@62½.

There was considerable selling of oats by concerns, presumably hedging cash grain bought in the country. For the September delivery, the limits were on either side 39⅞ and 39, with the close at the latter figures ⅝ under those of last night. After selling by packers had somewhat depressed provisions a little buying on the part of one of the group caused a recovery and in some cases a distinct gain. At the wind-up pork was 5c lower to 15c higher, lard unchanged to 2½c higher and ribs costing 2½c less to 7½c increase.

WEYLER METHODS USED IN NICARAGUA

Reconcentrado System Put in Force by the Agents of Madriz.

Washington, July 7.—A repetition of the Weyler reconcentrado system in Cuba, which caused widespread criticism just before the opening of the war with Spain, has been inaugurated in Nicaragua by the government authorization, according to advices to the state department today. Probably 5,000 people in the vicinity of the city of Granada are ordered to concentrate at Granada, under an order issued by Sebastian Salinas, the political chief and commandant of the fortress of the department of Granada, Nicaragua.

This order was published in "El Commercio," a Managua newspaper, and transmitted to the state department here as follows:

"1. Within 24 hours from the present moment all the inhabitants of the Mombache Ridge shall assemble at Granada, without distinction of sex or age.

"2. Persons not complying with this regulation shall be treated as revolutionists and dealt with as such."

According to the view here, this order would give the Granada military regime sufficient pretext to go up into the Mombache Ridge where a spontaneous revolution recently was put down, and shoot or kill any one who refused to obey the concentration edict.

PORTER CHARLTON ARRAIGNED TODAY

It Is Said Wife Slayer's Counsel Will Ask for Another Postponement.

New York, July 7.—When Porter Charlton, who was arrested in Hoboken two weeks ago, and confessed to killing his wife and throwing her body into Como lake, Italy, is arraigned tomorrow in Jersey City in the court of common pleas, Edward Saith, one of the counsel for the young prisoner, will ask a further postponement of the hearing on the ground that the matter of Charlton's extradition to Italy is still unsettled.

The complaint against Charlton asks that he be held for sixty days from the day of his arrest. Should the United States government not take some action in the matter before that time, there would be nothing to prevent Charlton going free, as no charge would remain on which to hold him. Charlton is still in the county jail at Jersey City.

Spend Your Vacation At Greenhurst

The Ideal Spot on Chautauqua for a Few Days or Whole Summer's Stay.

For those who want a quiet and refined home for the summer, where pleasure without limit and the very best of accommodations may be obtained at moderate cost, there is no other place like Greenhurst-on-Chautauqua, which is now under the able direction of George F. Hurlburt, known far and wide for his capable management of the Sherman House of Jamestown and the Grand Hotel of New York City.

Here every pleasure, comfort and accommodation of the most modern inland watering place may be enjoyed. Every facility for rest and recuperation or a lively good time is at hand. Just across Lake Chautauqua is Celeron, the Coney Island of Western New York. Three miles above Celeron is located the country club with a very attractive golf course, and an hour's ride by express steamer from the Greenhurst landing is Chautauqua, the most noted of all semi-educational summer resorts, where the leading lights of literature, music, science and religion come together each summer for the mutual benefit of all. Ten minutes' walk from the Greenhurst Hotel, is the Chadokoin Boat Club with every kind of craft from a row boat to a palatial launch.

Every imaginable recreation is available—boating, fishing, automobiling, golfing, swimming, bowling, billiards, tennis, archery, croquet. Add to this the beauty of Lake Chautauqua, the delightful sylvan surroundings, the splendid service and moderate cost of living at Greenhurst-on-Chautauqua, there is no other place that offers so many wonderful advantages at like cost.

Most summer resorts run to one extreme or the other—they're either too quiet or too boisterous. Greenhurst is neither one nor the other, but both. Address George F. Hurlburt, Grand Hotel, New York City—or Jamestown, N. Y., for full particulars as to rates and accommodations. Get this information now and lay your vacation plans accordingly.

REDUCTION ORDERED IN FREIGHT RATES

Two North Carolina Towns Win Before the Commission.

Washington, July 7.—The interstate commerce commission today ordered a reduction in through freight rates to Winston-Salem and Durham, N. C. It amounts to about 9 cents a hundred pounds on first-class freight and from 4 to 8 cents a hundred pounds on hay, grain and packing house products.

Some time ago a complaint was filed with the commission by the corporation commission of North Carolina against the Norfolk and Western Railway Company and other carriers, alleging discrimination against Winston-Salem and Durham by the railroads, and alleging also discriminatory and unreasonable rates to those points from Chicago, East St. Louis, Cincinnati and Louisville, through Lynchburg and Roanoke.

The commission held that the complainants' charge of discrimination was not sustained, but that the present class rates of the Norfolk and Western from Roanoke and Lynchburg to Winston-Salem and Durham were unreasonable and that the existing class rates via the same route from Cincinnati to Winston-Salem and Durham were unjust and unreasonable.

DISEASES OF MEN

DR. WM. M. BAIRD.

If I have some decided and original views on these diseases it is because I have been continuously in the work for 33 years, and for 25 years have devoted my whole time to these difficult and delicate cases.

I believe that many cases of stricture may be cured with less harsh treatment than they often receive. I believe this because I have demonstrated it again and again.

I believe that Syphilis needs not only the proper remedies, but careful, intelligent methods and attention to detail in order to cure and cure permanently.

I believe that Chronic Gonorrhoea causes more physical wrecks than any other disease. I believe this because I know. I believe that nothing needs more scientific methods in order to cure, and the man who suffers from it knows, too, that I am right.

I believe in straightforward advertising and honest business methods, combined with conscientious treatment, and if you are in need of advice I will take pleasure in examining you free of charge.

Office hours: 8 a. m. to 7 p. m.; Sunday, 10 to 1.

WARNING GIVEN NEGROES BY GOVERNOR HADLEY

Jefferson City, Mo., July 7.—Governor Hadley offered a reward of $300 today for the arrest and conviction of every person who engaged in the lynching of two negroes at Charleston last Sunday.

In an interview the governor warned negroes today they must not provoke race riots on account of the Johnson-Jeffries fight.

"Negroes have no occasion to feel any satisfaction over the result of that fight," said Governor Hadley. "Its only significance is that a negro prize fighter whipped a wornout white prize fighter who had impaired his constitution by idleness and dissipation.

"Jeffries no more represented the white race than does Johnson represent such men as Booker T. Washington or Professor Dubois. While I propose to do all that I can to protect the negroes in their rights and to prevent and punish acts of violence against them, the negroes must understand that only by their own conduct can they secure the respect of other people."

THEY DON'T LOVE UNITED STATES

Republics of South America Are Very Bitter.

At Coming Congress of American States Latin America Will Voice Disapproval of Policy of This Country---Radicals Propose Alliance.

Washington, July 7.—That at least three, and perhaps more, of the Central and South American republics will make a concerted protest of some kind at the coming international conference of American states at Buenos Ayres against the Central American policy of the United States, is the possibility being discussed in diplomatic circles here.

Rumors to this effect have been persistent of late in quarters usually well informed, and some responsible Latin-American republics admitted their approximate truth, though none would permit himself to be quoted. The rumors have led to lively exchange of information among the Central and South American diplomats here. Officials of the state department are watching the situation closely.

Alliance Against United States.

Some of the more radical of the Spanish-Americans are said to be in favor of a Latin-American alliance against the United States. It is generally conceded, however, that formal action of this nature is unlikely.

The most that can be regarded as probable is that the republics interested will give the United States to understand diplomatically that the principles represented in the attitude of this government on the east coast of Nicaragua will not be accepted willingly as a part of the international law of the Americas. It is hardly likely that this protest, if made, will become a part of the official proceedings of the conference; it will probably be left to the unofficial work of the assembly.

It is reported that the Venezuelan delegates will be the leaders in protesting against the attitude of the United States, and that at least two other governments will share the responsibility of the movement.

How This Country Has Offended.

Doubt exists in Washington as to just what steps of the American government toward her sister republics have given offense. The only concrete point mentioned in this connection was first phrased by Madriz, president of the government at Managua, when he protested against the action of American marines in preventing an attack by the Madriz forces upon the city of Bluefields. This was done on the ground that American interests were extensive there, and followed the precedent of the British government in prohibiting fighting in Greytown on similar grounds. Later the Venus was prohibited by the American officials from firing on Bluefields.

"According to international law," said Madriz in a note to the American consul at Managua, "no netural government may impede or disturb in time of war legitimate military operations of belligerents. Foreigners, equally with nationals, are subject to the contingencies of these operations."

Madriz not only means this to be communicated to the American government, but has protested to every Central and South American government against the attitude of the United States.

Attitude of United States Delegates.

On the diplomatic attitude of the American delegates to the conference may depend largely the outcome of the matter. In this delegation are such experienced diplomats as Henry White, ambassador to Italy and later to France; Dr. John Bassett Moore, a recognized authority on international law; also Enoch Herbert Crowder, of Missouri; Lewis Nixon, of New York; Bernard Moses, of California; Lamar Charles Quintero, of Louisiana; Paul Samuel Reinsch, of Wisconsin, and David Kinley, of Illinois.

It was well understood that the American diplomats will not attempt to influence greatly the disposition of general matters coming before the conference, and thus possibly increase the agitation. They probably will assume the attitude that the conference is not their show, and will bear in mind that they are only one twenty-first part of the assembly.

RAINS AND DROUTHS PLAY HAVOC WITH CROPS

Untold Damage Wrought to Corn, Wheat and Tobacco in Many States.

Louisville, July 7. — With cloudbursts and drouths spotting the Kentucky map and a great overplus of rain in Tennessee and southern Indiana, the crop situation for nearly 200 miles north, east, south and west of Louisville has reached an acute stage. Too wet or too dry weather has not only cut the product of the truck gardens and small fruit farms a full 50 per cent, but has wrought untold damage to the staples — corn, wheat and tobacco. Excepting corn and—in some favored localities—tobacco, the time for replanting has nearly passed, with no prospects for recuperation in those crops. Clover, hay, potatoes, etc., are rotting in the fields. Some Kentucky counties have not been visited by a growing rain since the first of May.

On the other hand northern Kentucky, Tennessee and southern Indiana have been visited by general heavy rains for seven successive days which, in some sections, have been veritable cloudbursts. The general crop situation in consequence is the most discouraging in many years. Traffic delays have been numerous, but trunk lines thus far have managed to get their trains through without general tie-ups.

WASHINGTON STATUE PRESENTED TO FRANCE

Washington, July 7. — The French foreign office has fixed August 18 as the date for the ceremonies attending the presentation by the state of Virginia of the bronze reproduction of Houdon's famous statue of Washington to the people of France. The statue will be located in Paris.

The gift was made under a law passed at a recent session of the general assembly of Virginia, "as an expression of Virginia's cordial admiration and loving regard." The governor of Virginia appointed a committee to arrange for the presentation, which was accomplished through the American embassy in Paris.

SHE SHOT HUSBAND, DAUGHTER AND SELF

Mrs. Mulsaw Was Crazed by the Infidelity of Her Spouse.

Chicago, July 7.—Mrs. Henry Mulsaw, goaded to desperation by the alleged brutality and unfaithfulness of her husband, a street car conductor, today shot and fatally wounded the latter and their three-year-old daughter and then killed herself by taking carbolic acid.

Mrs. Mulsaw borrowed a revolver from her father, explaining that she needed it for protection when her husband worked at night. Then she wrote letters to her parents, to her mother-in-law and to the public. In these she declared that she had been a good and faithful wife, but that Mulsaw spent his spare time with other women and often beat her.

Mulsaw is alleged to have been with another woman until 4 o'clock this morning when he returned to his home. According to the police he began abusing his wife, seizing her by the hair and kicking her. She then drew the revolver and shot him in the abdomen. He fell to the floor and she sent another bullet into his back. She went to her bedroom and fired a bullet into the body of her little daughter. Satisfied that both were dead, she completed the tragedy by taking poison. That she kissed her child after taking the poison is shown by the marks on the child's face.

The Land of Opportunity.

I believe that never in the world were opportunities so great and the rewards of honest industry so high as they are not alone for the rich and favored, but spring up on every side and ask no price but industry and character. The wealth of the millionaire of today may not remain with his son, but may seek that other youth whose character and training have made him the better man. The capitalist of the future is not surrounded tonight with luxuries. He is on his way home from a spelling bee in the district schoolhouse in Maine, or asleep in the trundle bed on a farm in Minnesota. The children of the rich will retain the wealth they inherit only because they are able; if they are not, the children of the mechanic and farmer will come and take it. Nothing remains stable in human affairs and fortune with impartial hand is awarding prizes every day to those whose names ten years ago were buried in obscurity.
